Pioneers in reading

Grass Lake students are first in the nation to try out literacy program which uses real world mentors like Ben and Jerry

ALEC JUNGE

Staff Reporter

Grass Lake School is the first in the nation to use a highly studied reading program from nationally-renowned Scholastic Publishing Co.

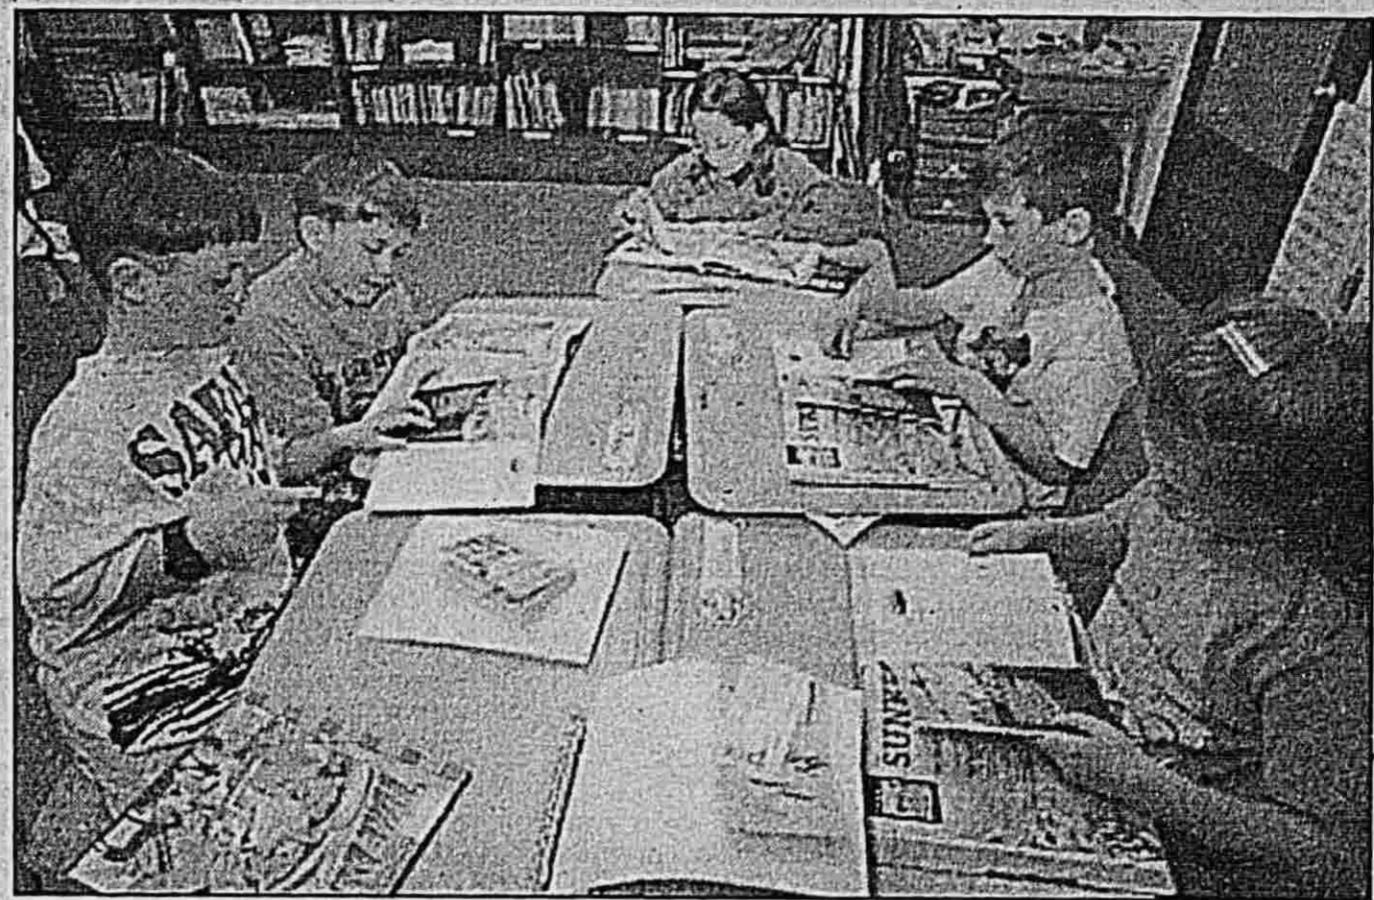

Grass Lake Teacher Sandy Nolan explained it took Scholastic seven years and $70 million in research to develop this innovative program. The program differs from conventional curriculum, because it takes advantage of multi-media learning and focuses on real people with real life applications.

"We couldn't find anything that met our needs," Nolan explained. "Another teacher from another district said Scholastic was working on reading curriculum and it was exactly what we wanted."

The program offers real life lessons from mentors who can be reached on computer and have taped messages on the computer. Some of these mentors include ice cream icons Ben and Jerry and several other experts in their fields.

Each year, six themes begin by visiting one of 42 real "Literary Places" and meeting the people who work there. The mentors are in student text, video, CD-ROM, and on-line. Mentors become guest speakers who share the importance of literacy in their work and lives, while the places become mini-field trips.

The goal is to have students understand the relevancy of what they are learning in See READING page A10

Dist. 34 officials back Edgar plan for property tax relief

ALEC JUNGE

Staff Reporter

District 34 officials are hoping Gov. Jim Edgar's education reform bill is approved, because it could mean $2 million a year in added revenue to the district.

"We would like it if it stayed the way it is," said Paul Hain, business manager.

The Edgar plan calls for shifting most of the burden for funding education through income tax instead of property taxes.

Hain added it's encouraging that the governor is supporting a plan to better fund education. However, he realizes it will be a tough sell to suburban Republicans.

"Right now, it is a pipe dream," Hain said.

The district is basing its initial numbers on information provided by the Illinois Education Association, a teachers union.

Hain admits taxpayers are questioning the plan.

"It's supposed to relieve property taxes, but it is rare that taxes actually go down," he said.

The state has been woeful compared to others when it comes to education funding. The state ranks last in per capita education See EDGAR page A10

RHONDA HETRICK BURKE

Editor in Chief

William M. Schroeder, 34, has been named president and chief executive officer of Lakeland Publishers, Inc., Grayslake. He becomes the third generation to lead Lake County's only locally owned and operated multi-media corporation.

His appointment was announced April 17 at a board of directors meeting, following the resignation of his father, William H. Schroeder, 68, who will remain as chairman of the board and publisher of Lakeland's weekly newspapers.

Named president of Lakeland in 1986, the elder Schroeder has served as Lakeland's publisher since the retirement in 1972 of his father, the late Marshall Schroeder.

"I have been extremely fortunate to be part of an enterprise that continues to thrive," he told the board, "because a driving principle is still held foremost — serving the greater good through community service."

"Now I am very pleased and proud to pass the reins of leadership on to my eldest son. We are starting on a new era. In the past, when a new president took over, much success followed. I'm confident history will repeat."

The new president, who has served as general manager since 1990, said his father will continue to serve the corporation as a consultant and advisor. "I am proud to be continuing in the tradition of my father and grandfather," he said. "And I look forward to the challenges of leading the corporation into the next millennium."

Lakeland Publishers consists of four divisions: Lakeland Newspapers, which publishes 13 weekly editions in the north, central, southern and western portions of Lake County; the Market Journal, a total market free shopper; Lakeland netDirect, an Internet provider; and ADX, an alternative postal delivery company. The company also publishes the Great Lakes Bulletin serving the Naval Training Center.

William H. Schroeder was raised in Vernon Township and is a graduate of Libertyville High School and the University of Illinois. He began his journalism career as a part-time sports reporter during high school and later as a staff reporter on the college's Daily Illini. He also worked for the Libertyville Independent Register, Champaign-Urbana Courier and the Waukegan News-Sun. During the Korean War he served as an Army public information specialist.

He and his father, Marshall, founded Lakeland Publishing on July 1, 1956. In the early days, the company produced three editions in the county. As the company expanded, it added new regional editions through acquisitions in the county and branched out into commercial printing, distribution and the Internet.

The long-time editor and publisher, and his wife, Nancy, are the parents of four children, including William, Jill DePasquale, Karen O'Toole and Robert, all of whom are associated with the publishing company in various capacities.

The new president, William M. Schroeder, is a graduate of Carmel High School. He attended the University of Illinois and received a degree in business administration from National-Louis University. He holds the rank of Lieutenant in the Naval Reserve and is currently the president of the Lake County Navy League.

He joined the staff of Lakeland Publishers in 1986 and worked in advertising and general administration before being named manager of the corporation seven years ago. He lives in Grayslake with his wife, Lisa, and their two daughters, Erica, 3 and Alexandra, three months.

Attitudinal Healing: Holistic Health Care for Cancer Patients and Their Families

Rev. Susan Roos, RN

Cancer Resource Center at Gurnee Mills

Attitudinal healing is a process of letting go of painful, fearful attitudes, and recognizing that we have a choice to experience love or fear, peace or conflict, joy or guilt. When we let go of fear only love remains. By being willing to see things differently, even in the face of grief, loneliness, life threatening and chronic illness and all of life's ups and downs, our blocks to the awareness of presence are removed and true healing can take place. Call 731-4109 to register.

An evening for Merle

Lake County Musicians Union report raising more than $5,000 at a benefit for trombonist Frankie Merle at the Antioch Moose Lodge, Sunday. Merle has been a well-known fixture on the Chicago area music scene since the early 1960s specializing in big band sounds, but in recent years has been confined to a wheelchair due to crippling arthritis. Below, event organizer Ken Mazzuca, right, and Frank Schultz, left, present Merle with an electric scooter which will give him more mobility. Above, left, Roy Zeman and John Brondor worked for early morning to evening cooking food for more than 250 people. Bridge repairs almost done

ALEC JUNGE

Staff Reporter

Those who want to take the Miller Road bridge will have to wait a few more weeks.

"We expect it to be done in a few weeks," said Ken Such, engineer of construction for the Lake County Division of Transportation.

All that is needed is some additional back filling, according to Such.

ALEC JUNGE

Staff Reporter

Antioch Community High School fees are expected to remain almost the same next year.

The school board discussed fees in committee session and are likely to approve them at the April 17 board meeting.

Superintendent Dennis Hockney noted fees will actually drop for physical education uniform because the school received a better price for the following year.

The only increase is in summer school. The four day a week summer school price is expected to rise from $90 to $93 while the five-day summer school will go up from $105 to $108.

In other business, the board looked at staffing needs for the upcoming school year, and is expected to add only a part-time teacher to existing staff next year, according to Hockney.

"Enrollment will be about the same next year," Hockney said.

The board also is likely to approve the school calendar for the following year.

The beginning date will be Aug. 26 and the ending date is planned for June 12.

This is a joint project by the Lake County and Antioch Township Highway departments. Both entities will split the cost evenly.

Miller Road runs between Savage Road and Route 45. It is just north of Lake Villa Township boundary with Antioch Township.

The bridge is not technically considered a bridge because it is less than 20 feet long, according to Such.

The technical name is called a box culvert.

Antioch Township is planning to pave a portion of the road this summer as well. The road is all gravel at this time.

Such explained the existing culverts underneath the roadway needed to be replaced.

The road will be reopened when the work is finished.

ACHS students sell newspapers to help fund scholarships

ALEC JUNGE

Staff Reporter

Antioch Community High School students and Lakeland Newspapers have combined to provide more scholarships.

The program will aid the "You Make A Difference" scholarship fund drive.

Approximately 40 students will host a telethon, April 26, from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m., and Sunday, April 27, from noon to 6 p.m.

Lakeland will support the scholarship funds with a $5 donation for each new subscription and $3 for renewal.

"It is a true example of students living the mission of the school district," said Dennis Hockney, ACHS superintendent. "That is, students acting as responsible members of society."

The event was quite successful last year as 11 students earned scholarship money from this program.

"In a 'me' world, where 'doing your own thing' seems to be the norm, it is our intent to help students to live the mission of the school district," Hockney said. "A part of that mission is to be responsible members of society."

"Responsible members of society are concerned not only for themselves, but also for others. Individually and collectively, ACHS students can and do make a difference," he said.

Lakeland Newspapers is planning to announce the deserving scholarship recipients thanks to the efforts of their classmates.

Community College Month in April. The Illinois celebration is part of a national observance recognizing the contributions of the more than 1,200 two-year colleges across the United States.

"In today's technology-driven, global economy, continuous learning is necessary for everyone," said CLC President Gretchen Naff. "Community colleges provide a nearby and affordable means for individuals to meet this challenge."

Nationally, more than 10 million students attended two-year colleges last year, including about one million in Illinois (one out of every 11 Illinois residents.) Of these, more than 14,000 students were enrolled at CLC during the fall and spring semesters of the 1996-97 academic year, including one in four recent Lake County high school graduates.

CLC offers college transfer programs leading to associate in arts, science and engineering science degrees and career education programs leading to associate in applied science degrees and certificates. It also offers training for business and industry, adult basic education (GED, ESL) and continuing education for personal enrichment.

CLC is celebrating Community College Month with a variety of programs, including a student art exhibit through May 18, a free concert by the CLC jazz ensembles on April 25, a performance by jazz legend Maynard Ferguson on April 26 and a free choral concert on April 27.

Lake Villa teen indicted in crash that kills family

ALEC JUNGE

Staff Reporter

A Lake Villa man was indicted on four charges of vehicular homicide in connection of suspected alcohol related crash.

Randy Bresnahan, 18, was charged April 21 on the four counts and an additional charge of doing physical harm with a vehicle in Kenosha County Courthouse.

The charges stem from Bresnahan's suspected involvement in accident which killed a Chicago family of four April 19.

Bresnahan was driving a Ford Bronco and collided head on with a 1995 Mazda Protege on County Highway C just west of County Highway L in Salem Township, according to John Schwartz, Kenosha County Sheriff's Department.

Schwartz said Bresnahan's blood alcohol reading was 11 percent. The state law for driving while intoxicated in Wisconsin is .10.

Killed in the accident were Peter Sawczuk, 45, of Chicago; his wife, Sharon, 46; and two daughters, Elizabeth, 17 and Kathryn, 14.

Bresnahan allegedly crossed the center line and struck the Sawczuk vehicle, according to Schwartz.

Sawczuks graduated from the same Chicago high school in 1969. Their children were known for their piano playing ability and received several awards.

Peter and Kathryn were pronounced dead at the scene. Sharon was flown to Froedert where she was pronounced dead. Elizabeth was pronounced dead at Siena South.

Bresnahan and his passenger, Anthony Pease, 18, of Lake Villa, were injured. Pease was taken to Siena South Hospital in Kenosha.

Bresnahan was released from Froedert and is now in Kenosha County Jail on a $50,000 bond.

Foot chase leads to drug arrest

Staff Report

Alert police work by a Lindenhurst police officer ended in a possession arrest.

John H. Carson, 17, 37558 Granada Boulevard, Lake Villa, on April 20, was arrested for possession of marijuana. The whole event was triggered by the officer, who observed Carson acting suspiciously.

According to police reports, the officer was on patrol when he noticed Carson almost getting struck by a car as he crossed Grand Avenue. The officer saw him, and found Carson change the direction he was walking when he noticed the officer.

The officer saw Carson put something in the crotch area and went to talk with him. Carson reportedly refused to lift up his shirt when asked to do so by the officer and fled the Linden Plaza area.

The officer chased the suspect on foot and caught up to him in the 2000 block of Old Elm. He was able to tackle Carson.

Carson allegedly tried to resist the arrest and the officer sprayed him with oleo capsicum (OC spray) and was able to cuff him.

The officer saw Carson holding something when he was chasing him. After the arrest, a drug smelling dog was called in from the Lake County Sheriff's Department.

The dog was able to find a bag which contained 11 grams of what field tested as marijuana.

Carson was released on a $100 bond and given a Waukegan court date.

Fox Lake Police seize cocaine, cash

JEFF PATERSON

Staff Reporter

Working from information obtained from the public, the Fox Lake Police Department reported two arrests and several confiscations on drug-related charges.

The arrest of two men took place at approximately 4:40 p.m. at 115 Nippersink Blvd..

The Department's Lt. Edward Gerretsen said that Sgt. Michael Behan, working for a number of weeks on information obtained from citizens, had been investigating the activities of a suspected drug dealer. Tracing that subject's movements to the Nippersink address, police report observing a drug sale and the arrest of both the seller and buyer.

Ahad Shibli, 27, of 192 St. Thomas Colony in Fox Lake, was charged with Unlawful Possession of a Controlled Substance and with Unlawful Possession of a Controlled Substance with Intent to Deliver.

Robert S. Coghill, 31, of Apt. 7 at 115 Nippersink, was charged with Possession of Controlled Substance.

Police report that the arrest saw the seizure of close to 10 grams of cocaine, $800 in cash, and a cell phone, as well as Shibli's automobile.

Lt. Gerretsen described the operation as going "very smoothly," and encouraged the public to assist the police in the pursuit of similar suspects.

"We appreciate any type of information which leads to these types of arrests," Gerretsen said, noting that, in addition to Behan and himself, Fox Lake Officers

Jeff Norris and Ken Welsch also participated in the arrests.

Bond for Shibli and Coghill was set at $75,000 each with a date for a preliminary hearing set for April 29.

Arrested for driving offenses

Julio Ramirez, 19, 1145 Main, Antioch, on April 18, was arrested for driving with no valid license. The officer saw him and knew he had no valid license and stopped him.

Jeanine Kasprowicz, 49, 679 Longview, Antioch, on April 17, was arrested for failing to stop when a school bus had its stop sign out. The driver reported the license plate to police and arrested Kasprowicz after she reportedly admitted not seeing the sign when she passed the bus on the other side of the street.

LAKE VILLA

Arrested for DUI

Jeffrey Wudel, 24, 205 Villa Avenue, Lake Villa, on April 19, was arrested for driving under the influence. He was stopped for another driving violation. He failed field sobriety tests and refused a breath test.

Arrested for driving offenses

Cory McClellan, 22, 20824 Genoa, Lake Villa, on April 19, was arrested for driving with a suspended license and improper lane usage. He reportedly almost struck a police squad and the officer stopped him after he allegedly was driving in the wrong lane for 3/4 of a mile.

Christopher Oaf, 23, of McHenry, on April 20, was arrested for driving with a suspended license. He was stopped for failing to signal a turn. He was found to have a suspended license.

75 Years Strong!

It's not in my job description

During the recent wind storm that breezed across Lake County, the Pringle household was one of the less fortunate who lost power for two entire days. Not a few minutes, not a couple of hours, but two full, entire, complete 24 hour days.

In the beginning it was quaint, but that mood was quickly swept away with the patio furniture in the gale force winds. At first it was cute to watch the little ones try to comprehend why they couldn't watch a Barney tape, but after an hour, their irritating little voices raced up my spine like nails on a chalk board.

Needless to say, as we approached hour number three, a bathroom break was in great demand by all. Dinner consisted of a hodge podge assortment of cans which were opened by a hand can opener (had to search quite a while to find that little relic) and cooked on the gas stove which came exploding into flame with the strike of a match. It was too much like camping—now I know why I prefer Holiday Inn's and Denny's. With no access to water, the kitchen looked like a Pillsbury Bake-Off had just taken place there with dirty dishes and pots stacked in piles on the counter and in the sink.

As the winds continued to assault our domain and the tree limbs were shaken loose from their trunks, darkness descended and a chill set in the house—now the fun began.

The front yard was littered with fresh firewood, now all we needed was a dim-witted fool to venture outside and collect the wood. Using the process of elimination we whittled down the list of candidates: our light weight kids would only serve as confetti in the blowing wind and hubby contended he was needed intact.

JINGLE FROM PRINGLE

in case of an emergency—like the present situation was a holiday.

So without any further ado, I forged out into the elements. Thank goodness I had the sense to grab onto the clothesline as I blew across the lawn or who knows what county my body parts would have been found in. As darkness enveloped the household, the only operating flashlight to be found was a toy one of our daughters and a electrically re-charged one, great for now but once the battery pack wore out—well that was the end of illuminated light as we knew it.

When the power is out and we enter a room, is it simply a reflex or a wish that keeps us from resisting the impulse to reach for the switch and flicking it up. And then once the power is restored, it seems every single light in the house is on from the bedrooms down to the can opener. And we wonder to ourselves "Now who turned on all the lights?" But as we nestled around the fire that night it all seemed very rustic, almost antiquated. Visions of Little House on The Prairie permeated the air, minus ma darn socks.

The kids nestled into their makeshift beds in front of the fire and were soon drifting off in slumber land while hubby and I took turns stoking the embers and trying to remember if we had indeed paid last month's electric bill. In the morning we were visited by a ComEd worker who had discovered the problem but was quick to inform us that "I don't climb poles." I couldn't help but think "So what is your job—brain surgeon?" Doesn't working for ComEd mean wires, poles, perhaps climbing? It seems this same worker had no problem climbing trees last summer when those trucks rumbled down our road and they used their lame cosmetology skills on our timber. Besides, in this case here, no pole climbing was needed—the thing was lying down on the ground. Granted there was a 900 year old oak tree laying on top of it, so why didn't this tree shearer just pull out those well-worn pruning shears and start chopping away. Perhaps it was the lack of 90 degree temperatures and swarming mosquitoes.

Eventually power was restored, unfortunately though for us, our telephone line is still hanging precariously under the fallen limb of that 900 year old oak tree. So who does one call AT and T, Ameritech, Sprint, MCI or maybe Candace Bergen herself. I wonder if she has a problem with climbing poles?

And so goes another "Jingle from Pringle"—don't forget to call 395-6364.

Park plans more teen activitiesALEC JUNGE

Staff Reporter

Antioch Park and Recreation Department has several activities lined up for a variety of interests.

"We are trying to have more things for teens," said Laurie Stahl, recreation coordinator.

Among the teen activities are plans for pool parties at night, which is new to the department, tentatively planned for one day in June, July and August at Williams Park, according to Stahl.

Also offered for the first time is a free rollerblading session, May 10, at Williams Park. This is designed for children aged 9-14 and will help form a rollerblade league which will debut in June.

Other important dates coming up include sign up for swimming lessons and summer day camp, both registrations start May 17 from 9 a.m.-1 p.m.

Registration for beginning karate, both adult and children activities, will begin May 1 and the program starts May 6.

Computer Tot sessions, for children aged 3-5 and children 6-8 are slated to start again in June.

Creative memories, where adults can put together fancy photo albums is planned for May 22.

Finally, applications for the Miss Antioch and Little Miss Antioch contest must be turned into the parks and recreation office by May 30.

For any information on the above programs call 395-2160.

Staff Reporter

Antioch parks will be in for some changes in 1997, if the village board approves the 1997 Park Improvement Plan.

The changes have been discussed and approved by the park board. Residents can expect to see updated playground equipment, more benches and upgrades to Williams Park.

High on the list is a water slide for Williams Park pool. The slide is under consideration and is likely to be approved by the park board next month, according to Laurie Stahl, recreation coordinator.

Stahl said the costs for this slide, which range between $10,000 and $15,000, are much lower than previous quotes which often were as high as $80,000.

Also planned is the replacement of a diving board.

Other likely additions include a half length basketball court and some picnic tables at North Park. Picnic tables will also be added to Jensen and Pedersen Parks.

At Osmond Park the plan is to make the playing areas more safe and put more sand in the volleyball courts, according to Stahl.

All of these proposals will be voted on, with the exception of the water slide, at the April 28 village board meeting.

Antioch is Tree City USA, to plant more on April 26

"Antioch has again been named Tree City USA," Marilyn Shineflug, mayor, said today. "It is the sixth time the Village has received this national recognition," she added.

"The Tree City USA honor comes from the National Arbor Day Foundation, a nonprofit educational organization dedicated to tree planting and environmental stewardship," Shineflug explained.

"Communities entering the nationwide program receive the Tree City USA designation upon recommendation by state foresters, who co-sponsor the program," said Bud Newton, Co-chairman of the Antioch Arbor Day Committee. "Communities qualify which meet the following standards: a city tree ordinance, a legal tree governing body, a comprehensive urban forestry program, and observance of Arbor Day," he explained.

"Tree City USA communities receive a flag with the programs logo and a walnut-mounted plaque," said Al Little, Environmental Commission Chairman and Co-Chairman of the Arbor Day Committee. "Winners also receive Tree City USA community signs. Maple leaf stickers will indicate additional qualifying years," he added.

Joe Huber, Village Arborist, attended an awards ceremony at the Morton Arboretum. He was presented with the Tree City USA flag and other recognition materials which will be presented to the Antioch Village Board.

"A community's tree-planting program is a living memorial to the citizens' concern for the quality of life," said Olsen. "The trees we plant and care for today will cool our cities, fight pollution, conserve energy, and give wildlife a home for years to come," he explained.

"I enjoy working with Village officials and residents to help plant and preserve trees on Village property," said Huber. "An effective community forestry program is an ongoing process of renewal and improvement—a program of tree planting and care that continues through the years," he said.

"A village wide Arbor Day Program will be observed on Saturday, April 26, when our school children and volunteers will be planting trees in Williams Park," said Little. "We will again give away 1,000 free evergreen seedlings (14 to 22 inches in height), up to five per person, to any Antioch resident that agrees to plant and care for them," he added.

To reserve your free seedlings write to Al Little, Arbor Day Committee, P.O. Box 288, Antioch, IL 60002 or call 395-2160.

Grass Lake Bridge work includes path

ALEC JUNGE
Staff Reporter

The Grass Lake Bridge is getting some much needed repair and a bike path to boot.

The bridge will have one lane of traffic with a traffic signal. The work is expected to continue until mid-December, according to Ken Such, engineer of construction for Lake County Department of Transportation.

"Our yearly inspections showed the steel to be wearing down," Such said.

This bridge is one of the longest on the county highway system.

For the first time, the bridge will feature a bike path. The path will be on the north side and be 8-feet wide. A concrete wall will separate the path from the road, according to Such.

"We felt that now was a good time to add it since we were working on the bridge," Such said.

The path may be part of a system of paths to connect the Chain of Lakes State Park with Lake County Forest Preserves trail system.

The project is expected to cost $1,893,000. Approximately 80 percent of the funding is coming from United States Department of Transportation. The county will fund the remainder of the work.

This is the first work done on the bridge since the late 1970s, according to Such.

The road will be widened for the bike lane and to meet current road standards.

Such added the road will be closed down completely when steel and concrete need to be poured. Otherwise expect intermittent delays.

Scrapbook Day workshop offers help organizing

On Saturday, May 3, people across the country will join together to celebrate National Scrapbook Day—an annual event that teaches the importance of documenting and preserving family photos and stories in safe, meaningful keepsake albums.

A hands-on workshop to help participants organize and preserve their photographs and stories in scrapbook albums will take place in honor of National Scrapbook Day on Saturday, May 3 from 9:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. at Chain of Lakes Community Church, Grass Lake Rd., just east of Route 83, in Antioch.

During the workshop, experts will assist participants who want to learn and actually work on a scrapbook photo album. Instruction will be provided by professional consultants trained to teach safe and creative photo preservation. Workshop participants are asked to bring their own photos to begin their keepsake albums.

A beginner's orientation class that teaches the importance of the keepsake album tradition as well as how-to tips and creative ideas will take place at 9:45 a.m. The cost is $10 a person. The all-day workshop fee is $15 a person.

The event is sponsored by Creative Memories, an international direct-selling company headquartered in St. Cloud, Minn. It offers photo-safe scrapbook albums, supplies and hands-on workshops. Creative Memories originated the direct-selling photo preservation concept in 1987, and, today, continues to lead the industry. Creative Memories has more than 20,000 Consultants in the U.S., Canada, Mexico and United Kingdom who teach people how to organize their photographs and memorabilia, how to chronicle their family history, and how to create safe and meaningful family scrapbook albums.

Creative Memories' parent company is The Antioch Company, based in Yellow Springs, Ohio.

school to what will await them in the real world.

"Research tells us in the 21st century people will need to communicate, work in teams and be problem solvers," Nolan said.

She added this program is designed to meet these three needs.

The curriculum runs from grades K-6.

"The kids like it and they are reading," said James Beveridge, superintendent.

"I don't know what came first. The students are really enjoying reading and we are very enthusiastic because of the program," Nolan said.

Beveridge noted Nolan has become quite the jet setter, going to districts in Florida, Michigan and throughout Illinois to explain the program.

This is the second year the school is using the program. At this point, it is hard to tell how this might impact the district's reading scores.

Research done at Harvard, indicated that the students in the program have demonstrated significant gains in reading and language scores on standardized tests.

"They studied what helps students learn and what they are interested in," Nolan.

The Literacy Place has emphasis in three types of literacy, intellectual, personal and community.

Nolan stressed the program offers convergent versus divergent learning.

The subjects and coursework fuse different fields into a related area instead of teaching abstract principles one at a time, she noted.

Because Grass Lake was first, they were able to receive all of the teaching materials and multi-media equipment for free in exchange for sharing what they learned with others.

Trails, Greenway Plan updated, hearing to follow

An updated Regional trails and Greenways Plan for Northeastern Illinois was approved by the Illinois Prairie Trail Authority at their board meeting.

"The updated plan reflects a strong regionwide commitment to preserve greenways, especially along stream corridors and abandoned rail lines, throughout our rapidly growing region," said Robert P. Neal, Chairman of the Illinois Prairie Trail Authority.

The Illinois Prairie Trail

Authority is a nonprofit agency formed to support the management, coordination and explanation of the trails systems of the DuPage, Kane, Lake and Will County Forest Preserve Districts and the McHenry County Conservation District.

The Prairie Trail Authority had contracted with the Northeastern Illinois Planning Commission and the Openlands Project to update the Regional Trails and Greenways Plan, originally approved in 1992. The Illinois Department of Natural Resources (IDNR) and the Forest Preserve District of Cook County, also helped to fund the plan update.

The updated Regional Trail and Greenways Plan includes many new bike paths planned or constructed using federal grants from the Intermodal Surface Transportation Efficiency Act and state grants from the Illinois Dept. of Natural Resources (IDNR) Bike Path Grant Program.

The Northeastern Illinois Planning Commission now will consider the updated Regional Trails and Greenways Plan. The Commission will coordinate a series of public hearings regarding the plan during May to solicit public comment. The Northeastern Illinois Planning Commission Board then will consider making the recommended changes to the 1992 Regional Trails and Greenways Plan and formally adopt the updated plan.

A study of education funding by the U.S. Congress General Accounting Office revealed the state has a great disparity in funding from wealthy to poor districts.

He added district taxpayers will want to see how it will benefit them.

"It's very skeptical. They want to see what are the benefits to it," Hain said.

The plan is still in the discussion stages and hasn't been addressed by the legislature.

Edgar is spending $600,000 of his campaign money to promote the plan.

STEVE PETERSON
Staff Reporter

College of Lake County's baseball team earned the nation's number one ranking and then proved that they deserve it. The Lancers learned they are the top rated team by the National Junior College Division II poll then increased their record to 31-7 overall with doubleheader sweeps of Rock Valley April 17 and McHenry April 20.

The offense was in high gear in all four wins. The pitching was highlighted by a no-hitter thrown by George Valko in an 11-1 win at Rock Valley. Eric Ames fanned five batters in a five-hit, 17-2 win in the second game.

Against McHenry, Scott Ambergromble increased his record to 5-1 overall in a 10-0 first game win. The Lancers had to work overtime in the second game, but won 9-8 in eight innings.

LeVar Dillard showed his versatility against the Scots. He smacked a two-run homer, stole two bases and had an RBI single in the first game. He walked and scored all the way from first for the winning run in the second game after Kevin Eckenstahler singled.

"The offense is starting to come around. Today I felt comfortable at the plate. I felt I could come through with what was needed—a walk, a home run, or single," said Dillard.

"It is in the back of our heads. We celebrated, then came back to play our kind of baseball," said Dillard of the top ranking.

Dillard's base-stealing kills leave opponents' defenses at a loss.

"I am a lot smarter on the base paths than last year. Last year, I did not know when to steal," said Dillard.

CLC took an 8-4 lead in the third inning. The top of the order came through. Cory Clark had a two-run double and Bob Hlousek had one-run single. Mike Niemczyk continued his hot hitting with a 1-3 performance on the day. He also had a three-run homer against Rock Valley.

McHenry tied the game in its fourth inning at 8-8. The contest settled down to a defensive struggle until the CLC eighth.

Dillard drew a walk on four pitches. Eckenstahler then singled and Dillard kept running until he reached home.

Joel Dangel came on in relief in the McHenry eighth. Joe Barnhardt, the elder statesman of the Lancers at age 23, improved his record to 4-0.

"We are playing good ball now. We have the conference tournament coming up and state right after that," said Hanson.

The offense last week included a record-setting 18-runinning against Milwaukee School of Engineering in a 21-7 win in a doubleheader split April 16.

The Skyway Conference tourney at Oakton in Des Plaines begins April 25.

Kevin Chudd and Chris Phillips are two seniors on the Antioch High tennis team, but that does not mean they are an experienced doubles pair.

The two learned and then won in two matches last week, falling to Libertyville in three sets before downing Carmel in two.

"They have not played a lot together. They had to adjust to the strength of competition against Libertyville in the first set. The third set they were doing well, but Libertyville is a tough team," said ACHS coach Bryan Plinske.

The two fell 0-6, 6-4, 2-6 in the April 17 meet. The Wildcats shutout the Sequoits 5-0 in a North Suburban Conference win.

The Sequoits second doubles duo bounced back against Carmel April 21 for a 6-2, 6-2 win for a 4-1 record. "Their lobs were great and they had the ability to pass in the alleys," said Plinske. The first doubles team of Eric Lipps and Steve Drengler lost 7-6 (7-4), 6-1. "This was a hard fought match in the first set. Both teams were strong at the net. The Carmel team kept attacking in the middle of the court and this paid off for them," said Plinske.

In singles, number one Steve Hovey lost 6-3, 6-2 to Libertyville in his debut in the line-up. "This was his first match of the season due to a wrist injury. We are happy to see him back," said Plinske.

He also lost to Carmel's Matt Hamilton, 6-3, 6-0. "Throughout the game, Steve was having a hard time finding his rhythm on his ground strokes. He was just a couple of inches out with his top spin. Steven then tried every trick in the book to come back. He tried serve and volley, lobbing, and back spin. Steve is a competitor and tried everything he knew, and he'll come back next time."

Kevin Ward and Andrew "The Hammer" Dohrmann lost 6-1, 6-4 to Libertyville. Both are juniors.

The third doubles team, Kevin Ward and Gary Kidric, lost 6-1, 6-3 to Carmel. "Kevin and Gary had never played together and it took them the first set to get comfortable with one another. They were playing better the second set, but doubles teams need time playing together," said Plinske.

ACHS, 2-5 overall, hosts Waukegan April 28. The freshman-sophomore combo are at the Grayslake invite April 26.

The Sequoits faced more top-level NSC competition Tuesday against Stevenson. "We hope to make a strong showing in doubles and get them ready for conference and the sectional. That is where our priorities are now," said Plinske.

Poliquin sets sights, blows competition away

STEVE PETERSON
Staff Reporter

Caryn Poliquin did not mind when she learned she would be the last to put the shot and throw the discus at the Grayslake Rams Relays.

The Warren High senior, in fact, prefers it that way.

"It helps me. It gives me a vote of confidence," said Poliquin.

Knowing what distance she had to beat, Poliquin went out and did just that. She had an effort of 37-9 1/2 in the shot put to win by four feet. She had a 117-10 toss in the discus, dominating the competition by 14 feet.

"I just hope to stay steady and improve," said Poliquin of both events.

The weather at the Rams Relays may have been good duck weather, but the cold and rainy Friday was not conducive to record-setting times.

Warren did have a strong third-place finish in the 14-team field with 115.5 points.

Poliquin also plays basketball and volleyball for the Blue Devils after transferring from a New Jersey high school her sophomore year. She would like nothing better than to end her high school sports career in Charleston at the state track and field meet next month.

Grayslake's Samantha Kruger learned just before the meet she would have her constant ally, Vanessa Nyland, to give her moral support. Nyland, who is a hurdle specialist, caught the flu bug which was going around Grayslake High.

"She pumps me up. When I found out she would not be running, I wanted to run well for her. I had run the 800-relay, so I was tired, but I was surprised at my time," said Kruger.

Kruger had a 52.6 to win the 300 meter low hurdles.

The host Rams finished fourth in their meet with 75 points. Highland Park ran away with the team title with 130.5 points, followed by Lake Forest with 120.5.

"I expect her to do it," said Warren coach Michelle Kruyer of Poliquin.

Kristin Pace earned Warren another first-place finish as she cleared 5-4 in the high jump. "That is great. Hopefully she can get to 5-6, but 5-4 was wonderful," said Kruyer.

"The whole team contributed. It was not one person," said Kruyer. "For this point in the season, I am very satisfied."

"The order is settled, we just have to work on handoffs," said Kruyer.

Ta-nia Wright, Pace, Sharnell Smith and Shaneka Williams ran the 800-relay to a first-place finish.

"Wright ran tough in the 200. She just joined us and she had tough effort. Without being in the condition the rest of the girls are in, she did an excellent job," said Kruyer.

Williams was second in the 200-meters in 27.2 and the 100-meters in 12.8. In the 100-meters, Williams was passed at the tape by a Highland Park runner.

The Rams bounced back from their first dual meet loss to Johnsburg with a strong showing despite illnesses, coach Joel Peebles said.

STEVE PETERSON
Staff Reporter

Aggressiveness is a weapon the Antioch softball team has used to its advantage several times this season.

The Sequoits forced the issue more than once with Round Lake and more times than not it was to their advantage in a 10-3, 16-5 doubleheader sweep of the Panthers April 19. The wins were significant because it gave ACHS a better than .500 record at 7-6 after an 0-6 start.

"It's exciting. It gets you psyched up," said ACHS catcher Linda DiSalvo about her team's style.

Case in point:

With the game tied 4-4, DiSalvo bunts no more than 10 feet in front of home plate. Sarah Rockow, who earlier had an RBI single, plays a dare you to force it game with the Round Lake defense. The throw goes to first base, and Antioch takes the lead for good in a six-inning game.

DiSalvo, a senior, and the rest of the Sequoits are pleased their hard work has paid off with a better than .500 record before North Suburban Conference tests begin in earnest. "It means a lot," she said.

DiSalvo has considered herself strong on the defensive side. She was at ACHS early before the doubleheader at Round Lake. She had three hits in game one.

"I like our aggressiveness with the base running. We are still not as crisp as we would like, but we hit the ball well," said ACHS coach Steve Wapon.

"DiSalvo has struggled with the bat this year, but she always plays sound defense. She has been working with the pitchers on getting their pitches in key positions - you don't have to just get strikeouts," said Wapon.

Jamie Silarski improved her mark in game one while Stephanie Haenchen picked up the second game win in a relief role. Wapon said the pitching staff, including game two starter Kristin Scopel, have accepted roles of either relief or starter.

Down 4-1, Antioch erupted for a seven-run, five-hit third inning to take command in See SWEEP page A12

Hughes fills ACHS clean-up spot

The Antioch baseball team may have solved the dilemma of which player is best suited for the clean-up role.

Reggie Hughes made a bid for that slot on a regular basis as he found the gaps in the opponents outfield in three Antioch wins on the diamond.

"He has been hitting consistently," said ACHS coach Paul Petty. "He was struggling at the beginning of the season, but he has been hitting the ball well."

Hughes cracked a two-run homer, his first of the season, in a 12-3 romp over Round Lake April 21. Stu Johnson was on base at the time.

In a 7-3 Antioch win over St. Viator, he had a double and a triple. Antioch scored four runs in the third and three in the sixth April 17.

In a weekend split with Rockford Harlem, Antioch beat Harlem 9-5 but lost 11-1 April 19 to go over the .500 mark at 7-5.

ACHS starts North Suburban Conference play this week, battling Libertyville at away April 24. They travel to Elgin to face St. Edward April 26.

Sequoits eager to improve as NSC nears

STEVE PETERSON

Staff Reporter

Antioch welcomed back two fielders and executed well on offense, making the most of seven hits in a 16-0 shutout of Grayslake.

The win was the fourth-straight victory for the Sequoits, who completed the first 10 games at 4-6.

Juniors Jocelyn McRae and Jenny Minor were back in the ACHS lineup. McRae made three assists at second base and Minor had a putout in the outfield.

Jenny Silarski and Stephanie Haenchen combined to hold the Rams to one hit in the six-inning game. Silarski evened her mark at 3-3.

"We had good, steady defense in a steady snow. We had solid fielding and we did not make any mistakes on the base paths which had been costing us," said Wapon.

Laura Deutsch was 2-3 with two singles, a walk and three runs scored.

Angela Pederson continued her hot hitting at a .727 clip. She was 2-2, and also reached base by being hit by a pitch and a walk. She had a single, double and three RBIs. "She did not play in the Peoria trip, but she has hit the ball well," said Wapon.

Sarah Rockow continues to hit .500 on the year. She was 1-2 with a single and scored three runs. Other plate appearances included being hit by a pitch and a walk.

Silarski helped her own cause at the plate with three walks and scored a run.

Nicole Langley and Jenny Piefer had singles in the seven-hit attack.

A seven-run third inning keyed the team effort.

"We took advantage of some of their walks and errors. Grayslake has a young team," said Wapon.

Wapon is optimistic about the upcoming North Suburban Conference season.

"The kids have worked hard and are eager. They are very receptive and willing to learn new ideas. We had seven players at school for an optional practice," said Wapon.

The wins continued April 15 with a 5-3 win over Woodstock.

ACHS's leading hitters include Kristin Scopel, batting .500 with a pair of RBIs; Piefer at .385 with four RBIs; Silarski at .292 with an on-base percentage of .469; and Langley at .364 with a pair of RBIs.

Raceman' Wilmot Speedway Season opener

April 26 marks the day for the 1997 season opener at the Wilmot Speedway. The Budweiser Sprint Car Series, IMCA Modifieds and the WIMSA Mini-Sprints will take the track on the 26th for the Premier Racing Productions second season of operation. Building on 1996, we can only hope to have beautiful sunny weather and 80 degrees every race night (not quite reality but we did say hope).

Construction continues on schedule for the new walkways, picnic area, men's restroom and main grandstand lighting with everything planned to be complete by the opener. Of course, Mother Nature will have a lot of input into the process of pouring concrete for the walkways, but with some decent weather the facility will have a new look for the opener. Besides the new look for the facility there are some other changes in place for 1997, most notably the spring car weight rule. By a significant majority, the sprint car drivers voted to change the weight rule to 1550 pounds, with the driver for 1997. This new weight rule will be in effect through 1999. The jury is out on our feeling about the change, but the vote was taken and the rule changed. We anticipate it will have a positive impact on the sprint car count and improve on our nightly average of 37 spring cars every week last year, thus giving us the opportunity to raise the flag as The Wisconsin Home for Spring Car Racing.

To get ready for the season opener, the first annual Rock Party was held on April 19. Lots of people with good strong backs came out and picked up the spring rock harvest. Thanks to all the party people who came out and helped. We also want to thank Miller Beer, Budweiser, Old Style, Grossmanns Meat Market, Coca-Cola and FastLane Foods for donating the treats and eats for the party goers.

Get 'em while they last; Star Trac memberships are still available, but only until May 10. Call the track office at 395-0500 for information. The 24 hour information lines are up and running with updates regularly. Call 838-RACE or (414) 862-2446. Don't forget to visit the Web Site, www.racingonline.com/wilmot. The grandstand gates will open at 5 p.m., time trials at 6:15 p.m. and the Real Deal takes the track at 7 p.m. for the best racing anywhere, through Sept. 13. Come out early and enjoy the picnic area, excellent concessions and the friendly atmosphere at the Wilmot Speedway.

Turbos fall to Hononegah

The Lindenhurst Turbos traveled to Rockford where they ended up on the short end of a 2-1 score against the Hononegah Lions. The Lions' first score came on a controversial play when the Turbos' Nate Hook kicked the ball out of the goal area after a partial block by the keeper; however the referee called it a goal. The Turbos scored when. They were awarded a penalty kick which was converted by Jeff Prorok.

CLC tennis has home court advantage

Although unable to dethrone Elgin, College of Lake County's men's tennis team did bounce back with a win over Sauk Valley.

The second doubles team of Eric McCann and Jayson Roberts continues to be a team strength. They downed Elgin and Rock Valley. The win over Rock Valley was a 6-2, 7-6 (7-5 tie break) win for the Warren High grads.

"It was a very dramatic second set win. They were down 5-2 in the second set and came back. They played good, error free tennis," said CLC coach Richard Watson.

CLC fell to Skyway leader Elgin 5-2 April 15. They beat Rock Valley 6-3 April 21 leading up to this weekend's conference tournament.

First singles player Steve Territo continues to face stiff competition. He lost to a ranked player from Elgin, Bob Fishman, 6-2, 6-1 and then fell to Rock Valley 7-6 (8-6), 7-6, (7-5). Territo had own over Milwaukee School of Engineering Jay Schulte 6-3, 6-0 as CLC cruised 8-1.

Roberts lost to Rock Valley 6-1, 6-3 after losing to Elgin 6-2, 6-1 at second singles.

At third singles, Duko Babin lost to Jeff Anderson of Elgin 6-2, 6-4 at third singles, but beat Rock Valley 6-1, 6-1. "He played really well," said Watson of the Rock Valley match.

Eric McCann improved to 7-2 in singles with a 6-1, 6-0 win over Rock Valley. He also won 6-1, 6-0 over Elgin for one of CLC's two wins.

Corey Cleghorn and Scott McCann won at third doubles for the other win over Elgin 6-3, 4-6, 6-3 and beat Rock Valley 7-6, 6-2.

CLC hosts the Skyway Conference meet April 25-26 at the Grayslake and Shagg Park in Round Lake tennis courts.

Sale #1028

WHEREAS, on May 13, 1988, a certain Mortgage was executed by Joseph P. Backs and Kelly Backs as mortgagor in favor of WestAmerica Mortgage Company as mortgagee and was recorded on May 17, 1988, as Instrument No. 2682584 in the Office of the Recorder of Deeds of Lake County, Illinois; and

WHEREAS, the Mortgage was insured by the United States Secretary of Housing and Urban Development (the Secretary) pursuant to Section 312 of the National Housing Act, 12 U.S.C. 3751, for the purpose of providing single family housing; and

WHEREAS, the Mortgage is now owned by the Secretary, pursuant to an assignment recorded as Instrument Number 3297157, in the Office of the Recorder of Deeds, of Lake County, Illinois; and

WHEREAS, a default has been made in the covenants and conditions of the Mortgage in that the payment due on November 1, 1993, was not made and remains wholly unpaid as of the date of this notice, and no payment has been made sufficient to restore the loan to currency; and

WHEREAS, by virtue of this default, the Secretary has declared the entire amount of the indebtedness secured by the Mortgage to be immediately due and payable;

NOW THEREFORE, pursuant to powers vested in me by the Single Family Mortgage Foreclosure Act of 1994, 12 U.S.C. 3751 et seq., by 24 CFR Part 29, and by the Secretary's designation of me as Foreclosure Commissioner, recorded on July 17, 1995 as Instrument No. 96545574, with the Recorder of Deeds of Cook County, Illinois, notice is hereby given that on May 2, 1997 at 1 p.m. local time, all real and personal property at or used in connection with the following described premises located at 252 Maplewood Ave., Antioch, IL 60002 legally described as:

LOT 46 BLOCK 3 IN OAKWOOD KNOLLS UNIT NO. 1, BEING A SUBDIVISION OF PART OF THE EAST HALF OF GOVERNMENT LOTS 1 AND 2 OF THE EAST FRACTIONAL HALF OF SECTION 5 AND PART OF THE WEST HALF OF SECTION 4, IN TOWNSHIP 46 NORTH, RANGE 10, EAST OF THE THIRD PRINCIPAL MERIDIAN, ACCORDING TO THE PLAT THEREOF, RECORDED MAY 25, 1953 AS DOCUMENT 791220, IN BOOK 32 OF PLATS,

will be sold at public auction to the highest bidder.

The sale will be held at Suite 2720, 30 North LaSalle St., Chicago, Illinois. The Secretary of Housing and Urban Development will bid $91,798.89.

There will be no proration of taxes, rents or other income or liabilities, except that the purchaser will pay, at or before closing, his prorata share of any real estate taxes that have been paid on the project by the Secretary to the date of the foreclosure sale.

When making their bid, all bidders except the Secretary must submit a deposit totaling $9,179.89 (10% of the Secretary's bid) in the form of a certified check or cashier's check made out to the Secretary of HUD. Each oral bid need not be accompanied by a deposit. If the successful bid is oral, a deposit of $9,179.89 must be represented before the bidding is closed. The deposit is non-refundable. The remainder of the purchase price must be delivered within 30 days of the sale or at such other time as the Secretary may determine for good cause shown, time being of the essence. This amount, like the bid deposits, must be delivered in the form of a certified or cashier's check. If the Secretary is the high bidder, he need not pay the bid amount in cash. The successful bidder will pay all the conveyancing fees, all real estate and other taxes that are due on or after the date of closing and all other costs associated with the transfer of title. At the conclusion of the sale, the deposits of the unsuccessful bidders will be returned to them.

The Secretary may grant an extension of time within which to close. All extensions will be for 30 days, and a fee will be charged in the amount of 1.5% of the unpaid balance of the purchase price or HUD's holding costs, whichever is greater.

The extension fee shall be paid in the form of a certified or cashier's check made payable to the Secretary of Housing and Urban Development. If the high bidder closes the sale prior to the expiration of any extension period, the unused portion of the extension fee shall be applied toward the amount due at closing.

If the high bidder is unable to close the sale within the required period, or within any extensions of time granted by the Secretary, the high bidder's deposit will be forfeited, and the Commissioner may, at the direction of the HUD Field Office Representative, offer the Project to the second highest bidder for an amount equal to the highest price offered by that bidder. All other terms of the sale would remain the same. If the second highest bidder rejects the Commissioner's offer, the Field Office Representative will provide instructions to the Commissioner about cancellation of the sale or other action to be taken.

Until I went to Victory.

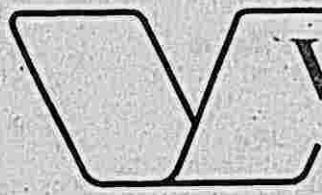

Compassion— the Victory difference.

Victory Memorial Hospital is a not-for-profit hospital. We're concerned about costs, of course. But we're not just "big business." For over 100 years, we have put our patients and the community first.

Our primary concern is taking care of you in sickness and in health. When you're in pain or feeling ill, we understand. We recognize your desire to get better, but also your need to have quality health care delivered with a human touch.

Our nurses and other caregivers, in fact every member of Victory's staff, have a common goal—to treat each patient and visitor to Victory Memorial Hospital with compassion, courtesy, respect and excellent service.

Choose Victory. You'll recognize the difference.

Art with a purpose

For some people, the only thing they know about working with clay is from having seen the movie "Ghost," where actor Patrick Swayze comes up behind actress Demi Moore, while she is working on a wheel thrower.

Paula Jean Pederson of Waukegan has worked with the art since 1980, when she took a "Play With Clay" class at the College of Lake County in Grayslake, and she has been creating pots, plates and vases ever since.

Pederson, owner of New Century Clayworks, Inc., in Gurnee, was 30 when she took the class. She had just left Abbott Laboratories as an industrial engineer and was doing some fine arts photography when she stumbled into clay.

"I did not know why I decided to take the clay class, but I did, and I fell in love with it," she said.

After spending much of her time at CLC, her instructor asked her to take a more intensive class. Before long she was working more and more, and was asked in 1990 to teach clay classes at the David Adler Cultural Center in Libertyville.

That lasted four years, ending when the center closed the program due to space limitations.

After one year had gone by, Pederson got up the strength to put together her own studio, which she did in Jan. 1996. She purchased her former equipment from the Adler center, and then found space for a studio in the Gurnee Business Center, on Ambrogio Drive, off Washington Street, just east of U.S. Route 41.

Which is where she can be found most days, teaching classes to children and adults in the mornings and evenings, and working on her own creations in the afternoons.

"That is the tradeoff when you teach and do your own work," she said. "I teach to afford my space, and I have my space to do my own work."

The tradeoff concerns not having enough time to work on your own projects, she said.

"That is something every artist comes to realize," she said.

When the afternoon comes around, the hustle and bustle of a class turns into a quiet studio, with Pederson and possibly another student working at the wheel, along with the sounds of a book on tape, classical music, a program on National Public Radio, or nothing at all.

"I am what you would call a studio potter," she said.

SPENCER SCHEIN
Staff Reporter

"I own my own studio and make mostly 'functional wares.'

"Most of the things I make are things to be used," she said. Items such as vases, pots, bowls, jars, plates, tea pots and mugs which grace her gallery in the front part of her work studio.

"A studio potter usually has to do that in an artful way," she said. "Instead of just a mug, I create a mug and push in the sides, and add some texture."

She also creates "decorative wares," which look much like the functional wares but in a more artistic form. And in a way, the functional items Pederson creates can stand on their own as art.

"That is a real goal," Pederson said. "Many times of the studio artist, to make things that are artistic enough so they stand apart by themselves as well as for their function."

Now entering her second year, Pederson said she is not hurting for students, even with CLC having a popular program of its own.

"People seem to be looking for something interesting to do in their lives, and this seems to be a nice one for them to do," Pederson said.

When working with children, Pederson shows them how to make certain objects, mainly bowls or pots. But with adults, Pederson shows them how to use clay so they can make their own creations.

That is part of the mystic with working with clay, getting to create your own shapes.

"Everyone comes to clay wanting to do something different with it," she said.

Most of Pederson's sales come from art fairs and art shows in the area. Her spring classes started last week, but new students are still being accepted. Adult classes are limited to 10 people in size, with children's classes having a maximum of 8 students.

For more information, phone the New Century Clayworks, Inc., at 625-1799.

'Take the plunge' on new Giant Drop freefall tower

Six Flags Great America opens for its 22nd season on Saturday, April 26. The Midwest's premier theme park features more than 30 rides, plus spectacular shows and a variety of attractions. A general admission ticket is all you need for a fun-filled day of thrills, stunts, laughs and splashes. There are additional charges for food, drinks, merchandise and games of skill.

The park opens April 26 for weekends only. Daily operation begins May 12 through Sept. 1. Tickets are $32 for adults age 11 to 59; $27 for children 4 to 10; and children under age 3 are free. Prime Timers 60 plus, are $16. Best buy, any two days is $40; and Twicket is $4. Season passes for individual is $75.35, group of four is $226.40. Parking is $6.

New to Six Flags this season is the Giant Drop. It will seem like hours, those endless few seconds of waiting for—the drop! As Earth rushes upward, you lose your scream to the wind and grip your harness for dear life. You're testing your nerve on Giant Drop, the tallest and newest thrill ride at Six Flags.

Giant Drop is a 227-foot freefall tower that relies on the properties of physics for its unique experience. Up to 24 passengers at a time, in groups of four, sit in outward-facing seats, with their backs to the massive steel tower. Riders sit in open-air seats with over-the-shoulder harnesses that leave legs dangling in space.

The seats are hoisted 20 stories to the top of the tower for that seconds-long wait and a commanding view before the seats release and plunge toward the ground at 62 miles per hour. State-of-the-art magnetic brakes slow the cars to a gentle landing on the launch pad, where the screams catch up with their owners. Giant Drop is located in Southwest Territory.

Lil' Cow Band

Popular children's entertainers and recording artists Fred and Teddi Koch and their five-piece band will perform a concert for families at Gorton Community Center parking lot, 400 E. Illinois Rd., Lake Forest, from 1 to 1:45 p.m., Saturday, April 26. Tickets priced at $5 general admission, with children on laps free, are available at the Gorton office.

Part of Gorton's "KidStuff" performing arts series for children, the concert will feature favorite and original songs from the group's recording, including "Did You Feed My Cow?", which spotlights the singing voices of several local children and the famous Ella Jenkins.

Teddi Bujewski-Koch is the director of the Music and Movement Center at Gorton for infants and toddlers and their parents, and Fred is a music educator in the Lake Forest School Dist., as well as a musician performing with numerous bands. For tickets call the Gorton office at 234-6060.

Family day

All ages are invited to join the Lake County Forest Preserves' Lake County Museum for games, crafts and more at Family Day Sundays, an educational activity series which runs every Sunday in April, from 1:30 to 4 p.m.

On April 27, become an archaeologist for the day at Pottery Puzzles. Test your archaeological skills as you match fragments of pottery to examples of whole pots.

Come early and explore the museum's new exhibits, "Model A to Z28: America's Love Affair with the Road," and "Wildlife Watercolors."

Family Day Sundays are free with general admission. Reservations are not required and there are no additional fees for activities. General admission to the museum is $2.50 for adults, and $1 for youths, ages 4 to 18. Children 3 and under enter free.

The museum is open from 1 to 4:30 p.m., on Sundays, and 11 a.m. to 4:30 p.m., Monday through Saturday. The Lake County Museum is located in Lakewood Forest Preserve on Rte. 176, just west of Fairfield Road near Wauconda. For more information, call the museum at 526-7878.

'Empress'

The Northbrook Theatre For Young Audiences professional adult company presents the musical, "New Clothes for the Empress," with performance running through May 10 on Saturdays, at 10:30 a.m. and 1 p.m., at the Leisure Center Theatre, located at 3323 Waters Ave., Northbrook.

"New Clothes for the Empress," set in 18th Century France, adds a delicious twist to the classic Hans Christian Andersen children's story finding women can also be vain about the clothes they wear.

The Northbrook Theatre For Young Audiences is a professional theatre company of adult actors that perform with kids in mind. Field trips are available for school groups on Tuesdays and Thursdays. Call the box office at 291-2367 for reservations. All seats are reserved and priced at $5.

Toy Faire

The Kohl Children's Museum and Museum Shop invite children and their families to enjoy the fun and educational world of toys at the second annual Spring Toy Faire, Friday, May 2 through Sunday, May 4. Come see how much fun educational toys really can be as youngsters experience games and toys first hand.

The Kohl Children's Museum Shop is located at 165 Green Bay Rd., Wilmette. The Toy Faire hours are Saturday, from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m., and Sunday, noon to 5 p.m. Admission is $4, seniors $3, and children under 1 are free. Call 256-6056 for further information.

THEATRE

Jerry's Girls'

"Jerry's Girls" runs weekends through May 10 at Cutting Hall in Palatine. Music On Stage is proud to be producing a tribute to Jerry Herman's spectacular musicals. "Mame," "Hello, Dolly," and "La Cage aux Folles" will all have featured numbers in "Jerry's Girls." The cast will include women only, using the female voice that Herman likes better. For ticket information, call 991-5990.

Susan Moniz and Tony Capone in Marriott's Lincolnshire Theatre production of "Kismet."

Kismet'

The intrigues, the comedy, the conniving and the romance of an Arabian Night fable come to the Marriott's Lincolnshire Theatre stage with the musical "Kismet." Performances are run through June 8. Tickets are $33 for all performances. Seniors and students receive $10 off the regular ticket price Wednesday 2 and 8 p.m. and Sunday 2:30 p.m. performances. Most Thursday performances include a free steak dinner with the purchase of a full price theatre ticket. For reservations, call 634-0200.

'Wise Men of Chelm'

Stage Two presents comic Jewish folk tales: "The Wise Men of Chelm." This hilarious compilation of Jewish folktales, by Sandra Fenichel Asher is appropriate for younger audiences (first through adult). The play presents a comic look at a fictional "shtetl" in eastern Europe. Final performance is April 25 at the theatre located at 410 Sheridan Rd., Highwood. Tickets are $6, $5 for students and seniors. For tickets call, 432-7469.

'Two by Two'

The Lake Zurich Playhouse will be presenting the delightful Richard Rodgers' musical "Two by Two." This rendition of the story of Noah's Ark will be presented on Fridays and Saturdays at 8 p.m. and Sundays at 3 p.m., April 25 through May 11. All performances will be held at Middle School South in Lake Zurich. Tickets are $8 to $12 with special children and senior rates. There will be a special Mother's Day matinee on May 11, with all seats $8 per ticket. For reservations, call 540-5932.

'Later Life'

A. R. Gurney's highly praised comic-drama, "Later Life" will close the 31st subscription season of the Kirk Players. "Later Life" is about Austin, a blueblood Boston banker, (played by Jon Matousek) who has spent his entire life convinced that something terrible is bound to happen to him. One romantic September night, at a party overlooking historic Boston Harbor, he has the pleasure of rekindling a romance begun 30 years ago with Ruth (played by Paddy Lynn). The party takes place on the auditorium stage at Mundelein High School at 8 p.m. on Friday and Saturday, May 2 and 3. Guest Stage Manager Francine Aske, will be assisting Director John Lynn in keeping control of the party. Linda Miller will be the assistant stage manager.

All profits from this production will be donated to the Lake County Center for Independent Living to help their goal of enhancing independent living skills and options for persons with disabilities. Tickets are $6 for adults, $3 for children 12 and under. Tickets may be purchased at the door. For further information call, John Lynn at 566-6594.

'This Blessed Knot'

Stage Two presents Ribald Midwest premiere: "This Blessed Knot," May 1 through 31. "This Blessed Knot" is a riotous take-off on the witchhunts of the Puritan 1660s. Performances are 7:30 p.m. Thursdays, 8 p.m. Fridays and Saturdays and 3 p.m. Sundays, at the Stage Two Theatre, 410 Sheridan Rd., Highwood. Tickets are $15 general public, $12 students and seniors and $10 for groups of eight or more. For ticket reservations call, 432-7469. ("Blessed Knot contains nudity/language).

Tickets will be $5 for adults, and $3 for students. Tickets will be sold at the door. For further information, call 360-5460.

'The Fan'

The Bowen Park Theatre Co. presents "The Fan," an Italian comedy by Carlo Goldoni. The unique direction of this production allows the audience to see the inside workings of a Commedia Dell'Arte. "The Fan," originally produced in Venice in 1764, depicts the story of a fan as it changes hands within the village. A series of mishaps and miscommunications, intrigues and amuses us as the village attempt to unite with their secret loves.

"The Fan" will run May 2, 3, 9, 10, 15, 16 and 17 at 8 p.m. and Sunday, May 11 at 3 p.m. The theatre is located in the Jack Benny Center for the Arts, 39 Jack Benny Dr. in Waukegan. Tickets are $18 for adults and $15 for senior citizens. For reservations, call 360-4741.

County quilters plan show at CLC

The Northern Lake County Quilters' Guild, in existence for 10 years, now has 60 members ranging from 23 years old to senior citizen status, whose quilting talents run the gamut between beginner and that of an expert quilter.

Every two years the guild holds a show and this year the guild's show will be held at the College of Lake County on Sunday, May 4, from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. There will be vendors, quilting demonstrations, a boutique and 200 quilts will be on display. CLC's athletic department will provide a concession stand.

The members of the quilting guild meet the first Wednesday of each month in the Community Room at the State Bank of the Lakes in Lindenhurst to share their love for the art of quilting and to propagate the art's continuance. Members can commit themselves to make and furnish a block made in coordinating colors and fabric for 15 other members. The result is that each contributor receives 15 different coordinating blocks.

An ongoing Block of the Month program is held with members committing to make a block each month using a new pattern to be part of a block prize, the winner of that month's blocks to be drawn each month.

The membership also donates one meeting a year to making major charity quilt donations. In February the membership donated 20 handmade baby quilts to a worthwhile charity. Every two years the members raffle a quilt they have made with proceeds going to a charity.

Members are always willing to teach what they know to other members, and are also always open to learning new techniques through seminars held by outside speakers, workshops and demonstrations sponsored by the guild.

Anyone who is interested can call the present guild president, Valerie Bonhiver at (847) 838-2126, evenings, or during the day, call Vice President Wendy Maston at the Quilters' Dream in Antioch, (847) 395-1459.—by GLORIA DAVIS

The 'Life's a Bear' anniversary reader's survey Or 'your thoughts could be worth...Something!'

Happy anniversary to me,
Happy anniversary to me, Happy
I've been writing this column three years anniversary...Happy anniversary to me!

As you may have guessed, this marks the end of my third year writing this column, and I thought it might be nice to celebrate the occasion with a reader's survey. Actually, I stole the idea from Lakeland Newspapers, who recently had a reader's survey of their own.

In their survey they asked readers "what do you read newspapers for?" and they listed the following categories: news, politics, advertising, sports, classifieds, government, and Lipservice (?). The fact that they didn't include "columnists" in that list made me wonder—so what am I? A. Chopped liver; B. Erma Bombeck with PMS; or C. Doctors are stumped.

But then I realized why—they wanted me to do my own reader's survey, in honor of my anniversary! And, although I may be chopped liver, I'm not stupid! This is a great opportunity to get in touch with my readers and find out what they really think.

So, folks, please take a moment

'Making a Difference' in lives of families

"Making a Difference" is the theme for the Ms. Molly Foundation's semi-annual charity drive in support of a local domestic violence shelter. Molly Maid of Grayslake is sponsoring a community drive during through May.

The "Making a Difference" drive will collect supplies to assist A Safe Place, Lake County to fill out the following survey and mail it back to me with your answers circled. I'm serious. Your thoughts could be worth...something!

"Life's a Bear" anniversary reader's survey

1. Your humor is, A. Funny B.

LIFE'S A BEAR DONNA ABEAR

Moronic C. This is humor? I thought this was an advice column

2. I'd like you to write more columns about: A. Your relatives B. My relatives C. My spouse's relatives, because heaven knows, they're laughable D. What was the question?

3. When I go to sleep I wear: A. Pajamas B. My spouse's underwear C. Nothing at all (this has nothing to do with my column, I just thought I'd ask.)

4. I'm funnier than you because: A. My parents are first cousins B. Your parents are first cousins C. I'm a politician.

5. I define "crude" as: A. The stuff on the inside of my oven B. Watching surgery on Channel 11 during dinner C. Any columnist who writes the words "pull my finger"

6. If I were a humor columnist like you, I would: A. Ask the publisher to double my salary B. Keep my day job C. Kill myself - the world would be a better place

7. I'd like to see your column: A. In this newspaper B. In some newspaper that I don't read C. At the bottom of my bird cage.

8. Please keep writing your column because: A. I enjoy it B. It keeps nuts like you off the streets C. Who else can I call a "moron" in Lipservice?

9. My cash card pin number is _____ (this is optional, of course, but if you include it, I may not need this job anymore, depending on your bank balance)

10. My favorite part of Lakeland Newspapers is: A. Life's A Bear B. Donna Abear's column C. What's her name—you know—the goofy one that writes the column

Add your comments here: (note: Be gentle - this is my first survey):

Junior Interpreter tours available

Have you ever seen a skylight made of 3,000 pieces of multi-colored art glass? How about a balcony suspended in the air by a chain harness? Or a two-story playroom with a mural of a magic genii?

See all of these at the home and studio of America's most famous architect, Frank Lloyd Wright. Special junior tours of this one-of-a-kind building are offered the fourth Saturday of each month at 10 a.m. The next tour will be held on Saturday, April 26.

Juniors tours are given by specially trained fifth through eighth graders or Junior Interpreters. Kids can also hear about Wright's six children who grew up here; they went on to invent Lincoln Logs and design famous buildings of their own.

Tours depart from the Ginkgo Tree Bookshop, 951 Chicago Ave., Oak Park. Admission is $1.50 for 6 to 14 year olds and $6 for adults. No reservations are necessary.

A guided architectural walking tour of historic River Forest will take place on Sunday, May 4 at 2 p.m. Winding through the streets of this early Chicago suburb, visitors will view the exteriors of Prairie homes designed by Frank Lloyd Wright, as well as Gothic, Tudor and Italianate homes. The 90-minute tour departs from the River Forest Methodist Church, 7970 Lake St., River Forest. Fees are $8 for adults, $6 for seniors and youth age 7 to 18.

Call (708)848-1976 for further information.

BE THERE

German-American Club holds dinner

The German-American Club of Antioch is holding their annual dinner/dance, April 26, at the Antioch Golf Club, Rte. 59 and Grass Lake Road. The Alpine combo will provide dancing entertainment. For reservations, call Dorothy at 356-5484.

Zion Genealogical Society plays seminar

The Zion Genealogical Society will host an all day seminar, April 26. The featured speaker will be Helen F.M. Leary who will speak on methodology. The title of her lecture is "A New Light on Old Problems: A Workshop on Problem Solving Methods." In addition, there will be concurrent beginner workshop classes. The seminar will be held at Saint Therese Medical Center, San Damiano Hall, 2615 Washington St., Waukegan. Registration is $23 for non-members, $20 for members. Leary will also teach a class on becoming a board certified genealogist at 7 p.m., Friday, April 25, at the same location. The fee for this class is $5 in addition to the seminar fee. For further information, call Carrie Johann at 623-2396 or Joanne Layne at 360-0360.

WON to meet

Widowed Outreach Network of Lake County, a group of widowers and widows of all ages, meets at 2 p.m. on the fourth Sunday of each month at Condell Conference Center, 700 Garfield, Libertyville. The next meeting is scheduled for April 27. Eileen Perelman will speak on "Stop the Paper Chase." For further information, call 362-2900, ext. 6275.

Dance pounds away

Dance Pounds Away, Inc., located at 401 N. Riverside Dr., Gurnee, will be hosting a two hour self defense workshop for women from noon to 2 p.m., Saturday, April 26. Enrollment is $25. For reservations, call 662-2772.

Cusack most likely to kill in 'Pointe'

If the other alumnae attending a 10-year reunion at Grosse Pointe High School, near Detroit, would believe John Cusack when he tells them he makes his living as a hit man for hire, they might nominate him "most likely to kill or be killed."

It seems Cusack is trained to kill in the military, flips out, and makes his macabre talent into a big moneymaker.

"Grosse Pointe Blank," is a black comedy, funnier than most, sort of a light-hearted stepson of "Pulp Fiction," that deals with Cusack killing two birds with one stone by accepting a job in the same area as his reunion, thanks to his crazy receptionist played by his real-life sister Joan Cusack.

Although Cusack's character seems to perform his gruesome assignments as routinely as a real estate salesman talking to a prospective buyer, his social life is in a mess and he visits his shrink, played by Alan Arkin, regularly.

The by-play between Arkin and Cusack, based on the fact that the psychiatrist can't deal with his patient's occupation, is one of the funniest parts of the movie.

Cusack's matter-of-fact dead-pan delivery is priceless, and the combination of the two Cusacks is a good one, so is the cross-play between Cusack and a rival hit-man, played by Dan Aykroyd. Aykroyd takes a contract out on Cusack himself when he refuses to join the Hit Man Union the older hit-man is putting together.

Minnie Driver as the high school sweetheart he stood up at the prom and Jeremy Piven, from TV's "Ellen," who plays his old teenage buddy, add to the fast-paced hilarity. Despite the atmosphere, Cusack and Driver have a lot of chemistry going on here.

The fine cast and the tongue in cheek handling of a less than funny subject, gets a four out of five star rating from us. "Grosse Pointe Blank" is rated "R." —by GLORIA DAVIS

Hold it! Is this child ready for school?

Dear Dr. Singer:

We've found your column very interesting and helpful. We have three boys, the oldest of which is 4 1/2. Our question is regarding our oldest son who is eligible for kindergarten next year. His birthday is in mid-August so he is just two weeks from the school cut-off. We hear so many parents say that "holding back" their children (usually boys with summer birthdays) was the best thing they've ever done. We are having a hard time getting any gut feeling about whether to send our son to kindergarten next year or not. Some factors point strongly toward sending him (does fine in preschool; he's 95 percent in height; socially and academically mature; advanced artistically,) and other factors point strongly toward waiting (behind in large motor skills, difficulty with pronunciation of some sounds.) We keep hearing about all the positives of "holding back." It certainly seems to have become a trend. What are the negatives? We would imagine that there are other parents struggling with this issue since it is currently time to register for kindergarten.

Thank you for your help. B.L.B.

Dear B.L.B.,

I'm really glad you like my column and would like to be helpful to you so in the interest of being as helpful as I can be, I would like to first say that since I really don't know you or your son, my comments should be looked at as general, and in no way do I recommend that you should follow advice in a column for something so important as the beginning of a child's school experience.

I have talked to so many people who believe that their entire school future, was based on their introductory experiences. I will speak in general about the positives and negatives of holding a child back, but highly encourage you to get your child evaluated if you aren't sure if he is up to beginning kindergarten yet.

In the old days, the trend was about pushing kids faster than they were ready. I remember in the '70s and '80s seeing all the magazine covers about "superbabies." There were all kinds of concerns about what effects this might have on kids.

Sherri Singer, Psy.D.

Now, from what you're saying, the pendulum has swung all the way to the other side and "holding back" is the thing to do. To tell you quite honestly, I have heard of and can think of many more negatives with an early start rather than "holding back."

Unless a child is made aware of the fact that he or she is starting later than other kids, the child usually doesn't seem to be able to label this in any specific way. There isn't usually a judgment made by the child, because there isn't any constant environmental feedback that contributes to that thought.

Even later on, because of the school deadlines, kids are all ages in different grades, so it most likely will not even affect him at that time. Certainly you don't want to wait too long to start him either. Contrast that with a child who isn't ready to start, being in a classroom of kids who are ready. That is a very stark reality to that child and is much more obvious. There is plenty of feedback from the environment (other kids) so the child starts to make self-judgments. This can contribute to negative feelings about school in general.

Whether your child is ready or not, I can't really say here, but like I said before, I really highly recommend that you have your child evaluated by a competent professional if you are unsure. This way, you can get a good reading of where your child actually is with regard to kindergarten readiness. This makes the decision far more objective than subjective and can take a lot of the pressure off. If the evaluation shows that there are serious delays, probably better to wait and let the child mature a bit more. If not, check the specifics of the evaluation with what your school has to offer as extra help and see if there is any way to make it work within the confines of the regular classroom.

One last thing. Try and research your decision as best you can prior to acting on it. The one thing I would try and stay away from is starting your child without having made sure of your decision and then deciding later to pull him out midstream because of problems. Transitions are hard on children. They're hard on adults too, but we have more skills to deal with them (at least most of the time.) If you're unsure, get him evaluated and then make your decision. Good luck with this!

Spectacular spring collector car auction set at Volo Auto museum

A 1907 Brush Runabout, a 1925 Ford Model T Touring, a 1928 Buick Master, a 1929 Hupmobile and a 1934 Rolls Royce Phantom II are just a sampling of the rare, pre-World War II vehicles that will be auctioned at the Volo Antique Auto Museum/Kruse International Collector Car Public Auction to be held Friday through Sunday, May 2 to 4, on the 30-acre Volo Antique Museum and Mall complex in Volo.

There will be choice post-World War II collector cars, of course, from the late '40s through the 1980s. Such as a 1947 Mercury, 1951 Packard 200 Convertible, 1953 Oldsmobile Fiesta Convertible, 1952 MG TD Roadster, and a 1957 Cadillac, 2-door hardtop. A 1961 Chevrolet Impala Convertible, 1964 Ford Fairlane, 2-door hardtop, 1967 Chevrolet Corvette Roadster, 1967 BMW 2000, 1970 Oldsmobile Cutlass Convertible, 1970 Buick GS Coupe, 1971 Pontiac LeMans Convertible, 1972 Buick Skylark 2-door convertible, 1973 Ford Mustang Hardtop, 1974 Pantera Coupe, 1974 Jaguar XKE Coupe, 1974 Porsche, 1977 Rolls Royce Silver Shadow, 1978 Pontiac TransAm Coupe, and 1980 Pontiac Firebird Coupe.

This special auction is limited to 450 collector vehicles with 100 cars on Friday, May 2, 200 cars on Saturday, May 3, and 150 cars on Sunday, May 4. The auction begins at 5 p.m. Friday, and 10 a.m. on Saturday and Sunday.

Chicago's Museum of Science and Industry is exclusively offering two rare autos at the Volo auction. A Brush Runabout 1907-09 Model A or B with wagon body and a Brush Runabout 1910 Model D with four seats.

All money generated from the sale of these autos will be set aside to care for and conserve the museum's collection and to acquire significant artifacts, according to the museum.

General admission to the auction is $8 for adults and $3 for children age 12.

The Volo Antique Auto Museum is on Volo Village Road, one-half mile west of Rte. 12, in Volo, with easy exit off of Rte. 120. Valet parking will be available by Shriners from the Chain O'Lakes Shire Club for a $5 donation.

Cruising For The Ecology-Minded

by JIM WARNEK, PRESIDENT
NORTH STAR TRAVEL, INC.

There are cruises dedicated solely to various individual ecological subjects. Besides being somewhat costly, their non-scholastic activities are limited. While this may suit some travelers with specialized interests just fine, many of us would prefer a less expensive conventional cruise, with all the activities offered on today's superliner, but still have the opportunity to experience the ecology of the Caribbean.

Just pick a cruise that stops at the right ports and then choose the right "Shore Excursions"!

If your ship stops at, or starts from, Puerto Rico, you have the opportunity to visit the only Rain Forest in the U.S. Forest Service, Known as "El Yunque", it's in the Puerto Rican mountains, about 32 miles east of San Juan. The 28,000 acre forest reaches an elevation of 3,526 ft. and has 240 species of trees of which only six are found in the continental United States. With an estimated 100 billion gallons of rain fall annually, it is indeed a Rain Forest.

The Island of St. John, the most secluded of the U.S. Virgin Islands, is most often visited as a "shore excursion" from St. Thomas. On St. John is the Virgin Islands National park where park Rangers lead hikes pointing out a wide variety of wildlife and vegetation, as well as the remnants of four sugar plantations. Hikes leave from the Visitors Center on Tuesday, Thursday, and Saturday at 10:30 a.m. You can write to Virgin Islands National park, Box 806, St. Thomas 00801, for more information.

The Island Nation of Jamaica offers several opportunities for excursions of the ecological nature.

A trip down the Martha Brea River, near Montego Bay, on a bamboo raft is a relaxing way to observe Jamaica's lush riverside vegetation. Closer to Ocho Rios you can take a horseback tour of the Prospect Park Plantation visiting banana and citrus groves, as well as coffee tree and mahogany forests.

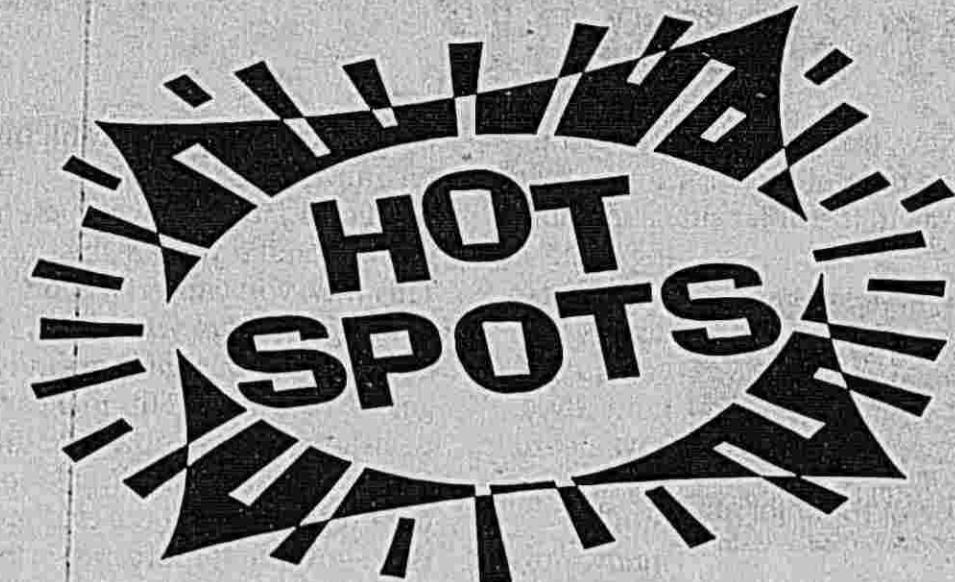

After a night of lights and glitter at the ship's disco, spend a day getting to know the ecology of Caribbean.

Gardening in window boxes and containers

There are many advantages gardening in containers. The most obvious is in the ease in which you can have a garden. It is a convenient, less time-consuming method of gardening. Most plants will do well in containers. I grow herbs (parsley, cilantro, chives, thyme and oregano) right outside my kitchen door. When I need a fresh herb for a dish all I need do is walk out the door and snip!

Window boxes are a neat way to soften the appearance of your home. There are many types of window boxes. They are made of indestructible plastic, cedar and wrought iron. Some can be attached temporarily and others are permanently mounted.

Most flowers will do great in window boxes. Try the variety that tend to trail and creep. They look great trailing from the box. Take into consideration the exposure your window box will get, sun or shade? That is always an important consideration.

Gardener's Journal

by Lydia Huff

Pansies, violet and violas do well in shade. So do begonias, lobelia, and impatiens. Geraniums, petunias, salvia, vinca and verbena do great in the sun. Try mixing a variety of hot colors of different annuals for a show stopper!

One year I planted all red, white, and blue and my front yard looked awesome. Purples and pinks are lovely together. Try mixing spiky plants with compact ones for contrast.

Have fun with your design, try something unusual. Use ivy, ferns and vinca vine for greenery and fill.

Remember when growing plants in window boxes and containers they do need to be watered more frequently as the soil in containers dries out fast. Also after the flowers are spent, "dead head" them (pinch off dead flower blooms) to encourage them to blossom continuously. Head out to your local nursery where you will be able to get some ideas and ask for some suggestions.

Until next time, peace.

KMC faculty, students receive national recognition

Kathleen W. Cizewski, NCTM, owner and director of Kathi's Musicians' Center, School of Music, 130 Center St., Grayslake, announces national recognition awarded to several faculty and students. All KMC faculty are members of the National Guild of Piano Teachers, allowing students to have the privilege of becoming eligible for evaluation by faculty members from the American College of Musicians. The ACM faculty, on which Cizewski has served a 16 year active position, is headquartered in Austin, Texas, where all official assignments of judges across the U.S. and standards for performance are set. Students become members of the National Fraternity of Student Musicians for one year upon successful completion of their performance. Requirements include technical proficiency and full memorization of programs from two to 15 selections, beginner through artist level, children through adults.

Recognized are: Wilfred Artman, Matthew Brocki, Steven Dietz, Melanie Dutt, Lauren Elrod, Corinne Gutowski, Laura Holzrichter, Nathaniel Jiang, Angela Mathews, Samantha Nasenbeny, Doug Olexa, Matthew Rickert, Kim Sula, Dena Sullivan, Laura Triplett, Jennifer Vogt, Mai Wendland, Carlin White.

The KMC faculty members participating in the 1997 Guild are: Ami Kastor, Rebecca Tallian, Felix Cizewski and Kathleen Cizewski.

Kathi's Musician's Center School of Music looks forward to the summer 10 week term, offering lessons for all ages, all levels in piano, organ, keyboards, brass, woodwinds and more. Call 223-5726 for further details.

HOROSCOPE

Aries – March 21/April 20

Your ability to get straight to the point will serve you well at work this week. Your supervisors want to solve a problem, not beat around the bush. You'll be in control when it comes to romance. Express your true feelings for a close friend, and he or she will reciprocate. Leo is involved.

Taurus – April 21/May 21

Your stubborn nature will work to your advantage at work in the middle of the week. While others look for a quick fix, you'll hold out until a long-term solution is found, getting you recognized by the higher-ups. A close friend will need your help this week. Be supportive, and help out.

Gemini – May 22/June 21

Friends will look to you to lead the way this week. They'll ask you to plan an outing for the whole group. While you're not used to the role of leader, take this opportunity to break the monotony. You know you want to. Work will seem boring early in the week, but enjoy it while it lasts. It will be crazy before the week's end.

Cancer – June 22/July 22

You certainly will earn the title of "The Crab" this week. Everything will seem to get on your nerves. Try to remain calm, and don't take out your frustrations on co-workers. Go out to lunch, instead of eating in the office, and try not to work too late. Meeting some friends after work will help ease your tension.

Leo – July 23/August 23

Get to the heart of family matters this week. Talk to loved ones, and find out what's wrong. Don't let your pride get in the way of getting to the bottom of things. However, you shouldn't let family affairs affect you at work. Superiors will be considering you for a promotion.

Virgo – Aug 24/Sept 22

Be wary when a co-worker asks to borrow money from you, because you'll need to make a large purchase before the end of the week. Is he or she reliable? A close friend will be there for you in your time of need. Don't be afraid to confide in him or her. He or she has your best interest at heart.

Libra – Sept 23/Oct 23

Work will go by quickly this week, because you'll be busy working on a new and interesting project. Enjoy it, but don't forget to take some time for yourself. Let your enthusiasm for your job flow over into your personal life. Share your excitement with friends and loved ones.

Scorpio – Oct 24/Nov 22

Love plays an important role in your life this week. You meet someone whom you can't get off of your mind. Instead of daydreaming about him or her, make a move. Ask him or her out, and you'll find that you won't be disappointed. Aquarius and Capricorn are involved.

Sagittarius – Nov 23/Dec 21

Be brave at work in the middle of the week. You'll think that there's a conspiracy against you, because everything will go wrong. Don't get discouraged. You're just going through a bad time; it too shall pass. Your family life will make up for it. You'll have a great time with loved ones this week.

Capricorn – Dec 22/Jan 20

A close friend will be the bright spot in your life this week. You'll be happier than you have been in a long time, and everything will seem to go right. It even will make work easier. You won't get frustrated by workplace politics, and the week will fly by.

Aquarius – Jan 21/Fe 18

You'll have your freedom at work this week. Your superiors will give you free reign over an important project, and it's your time to shine. Your analytical mind will help you make the best decisions. Pisces is involved.

Pisces – Feb 19/March 20

Your compassion will be called on by loved ones this week. Help them calm down, and try to boost their spirits. They've always been there for you. A close friend will bring you good news at the end of the week. It will give you an optimistic outlook on life.

Music Notes

Roselle Love

Zahn to perform at Masthaus

Folk singer/musician Dan Zahn will be returning to the area on Saturday, April 26. Zahn, originally from the Fox Lake area, will be performing songs from his newly released CD "Sunrise." Those familiar with Zahn's work know his expertise in vocals, guitar and mandolin and be able to enjoy an up close and personal concert of his music. The 7:30 p.m. concert will be held at the Masthaus, 528 E. Calhoun, Woodstock.

Accompanying Zahn will be a few members of his band that also performed on the CD. They are Don Stiernberg of Wauconda playing mandolin, Joe Pesz of Island Lake, vocals and bass; Cathy Kuna of Wheaton on cello; and Patti Ecker of Des Plaines on vocals. A $6 donation will be accepted at the concert. For further information, call (815)338-0011.

Weekend entertainment

Unna's Boot will be performing at Village Spirit, Cedar Lake Road, Round Lake Beach on Saturday, April 26. The evening will be a '60s (30 years later) party and hourly drawings for prizes will take place.

Open Ground will be at Jimmy V's in Ingleside on April 26. Tickets for the Jimmy Buffet concert on June 28 will be raffled.

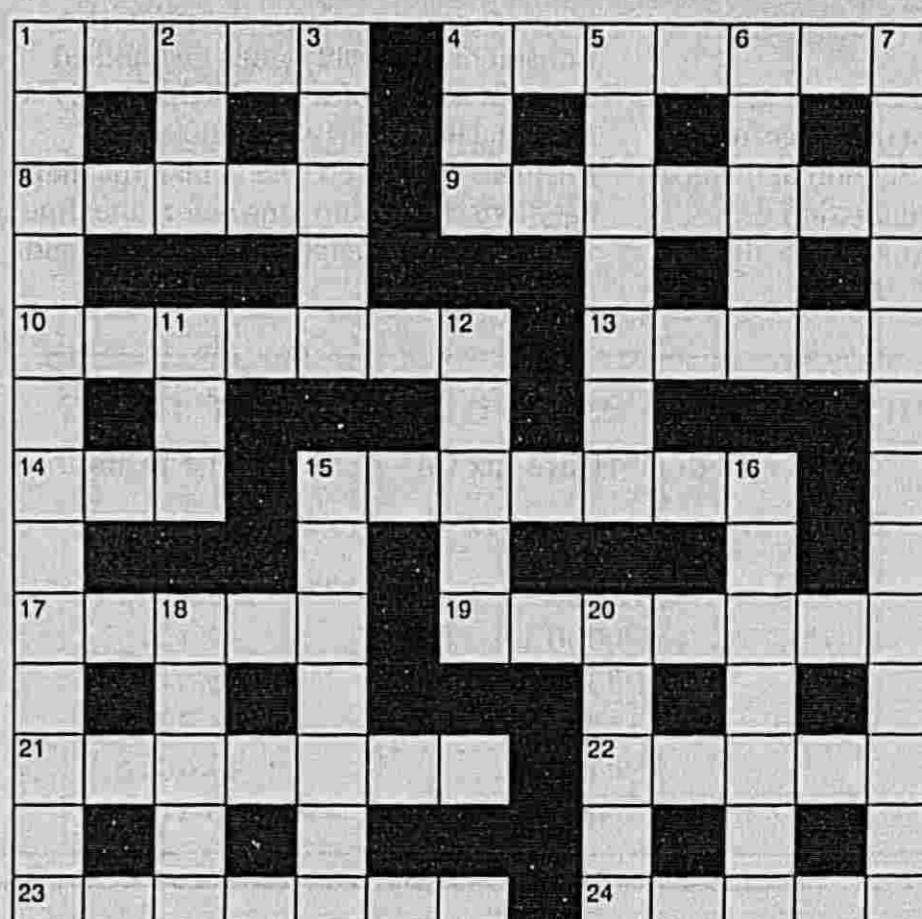

Flatlander's in Lincolnshire will be holding a blues night featuring Keith Scott at 8 p.m. on April 26.

Round Lake Area Alano Club presents a Spring Fling featuring the Crossroads, Saturday, April 26. The evening begins at 4 p.m. with a spaghetti dinner, open speaker at 8 p.m. featuring Mike B. from the LaGrange YMCA group and the dance to follow. The Spring Fling takes place at the Round Lake Area Alano Club, 1631 Wood St., Round Lake Beach. Participants are asked to bring a dish to pass. Admission to the dinner/dance is $4 for members, $5 for non members. Call 223-9706 for further information.

Magic Slim and The Teardrops (deep blues) will be playing at Chicago Blue Note, 1550 N. Rand Rd., Palatine Friday, April 25. Cover is $6. On Saturday, April 26 enjoy Coco Montoya (Blind Pig artist) at Chicago Blue Note. Cover is $7. Call 776-9850.

Slice of Chicago, 36 S. Northwest Hwy., Palatine will be host to Dave Andersen and The I-Lites (World Beat, Reggae) on April 25 and Lynn Jordan and The Shivers on April 26. Call 991-2150 for further listings.

Lake County Council looks to seniors' needs

GLORIA DAVIS

Staff Reporter

The Lake County Council for Seniors will be holding its annual Memorial Recognition Luncheon at Marvel's in Ingleside on May 20. At this luncheon, the council will be honoring 15 area senior citizens for their volunteer work.

Twenty four years ago, in 1973, Ann Towey, concerned for the elderly in Lake County, founded the Lake County Council for Seniors. Today the council has 331 members and last year welcomed calls from approximately 600 senior citizens by steering them to people who could answer their questions, or give them the help they sought.

The council's office, manned by a staff of two, is located at 414 S. Lewis Ave., in Waukegan. Someone is there to answer calls and act as a referral service, from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m., Monday through Friday.

The members of the council elect its officers. The present council president is Ruth Adams; the vice president is John Hoen; the secretary is Edith Wilson and the treasurer, Ruth Notson.

The council also offers free tax services, free notary services, and help to fill out complicated forms such as that asking for circuit breaker funds.

If you are a Lake County senior and you have a problem call (847)244-1720 for assistance. The annual fundraiser is the Senior Expo, held in August at the College of Lake County. This is a day for seniors when they are fed, entertained, given chances at a free drawing, and offered the chance to hear special speakers and attend seminars relevant to their lives.

Anyone interested in joining the council can do so by calling (847)244-1720 during office hours. The council will send them an information-filled brochure. The annual membership dues are $6 for a single member, $10 a couple.

Organizations can join by paying $20 annual dues and appointing two representatives to attend meetings.

Estate planning can preserve assets for heirs

It's an old story. When the well-off parents died, the family didn't get nearly as much as they had expected, because estate taxes were so high that the family business or property had to be sold to pay them.

"Transferring assets to heirs can be expensive and risky, or tax-efficient and safe, depending upon your estate plan or the lack of one," said Julie McKinley, vice president of personal financial planning at The Northern Trust Co.

"Careful estate planning can avoid possible problems in the preservation and growth of assets and also provide adequately for current living expenses and future needs," McKinley said.

Asset protection is the primary goal of any estate plan. "The complexity of the tax laws makes it practically impossible for a non-professional to set up a fool-proof plan, but professional planning will more than pay for itself in estate tax savings," McKinley said.

Any amount of assets can pass to surviving spouse without estate taxes because of the unlimited marital deduction in the tax laws. However, no such deduction is allowed when the surviving spouse dies.

"The substantial taxes that an unplanned estate may then encounter are unnecessary because they can be avoided entirely, or at least greatly reduced, by establishing one or more carefully structured trusts," said McKinley.

Managing family assets productively involves not only preservation, but also continuing growth in value to counteract inflation and provide for increasing needs of the family. Investment decisions for a substantial estate demand solid financial experiences, both during the settlement period and after assets are distributed.

The estate plan can specify that assets be placed in a protective trust with a professional asset manager as trustee who will be responsible for the financial welfare of family members in light of their ages, states of health and experience in managing money.

"Keeping a closely held business in the family and assuring its viability is often a major concern in estate planning. The transfer of ownership must be handled carefully, and professional help usually is essential to assure its tax efficiency. Business owners do well to plan the management succession long before the time when it is anticipated to take place," said McKinley.

Senior advocate presents health, fitness fair

Good Shepherd Hospital's popular Senior Health and Fitness Fair will be held from 8 a.m. to noon, Friday, May 2 on the campus of Good Shepherd Hospital, 450 W. Hwy. 22, Barrington. The fair is sponsored by Good Shepherd Hospital and the Senior Advocate Program, formerly called Senior Passport.

The fair is open to individuals age 55 and older and will include a chemistry and coronary risk profile blood test for gout, glucose, potassium, and renal function, and cholesterol levels. The cost for the test is $15 and participants must fast for 12 hours prior to the test.

There will also be free screenings for blood pressure, foot problems, hearing loss, glaucoma and cataracts, pulmonary function, diabetes checks and consultations, body fat distribution, and skin cancer. A limited number of bone density screenings will be offered between 8 a.m. and noon and must be scheduled in advance through Good Shepherd's Health Advisor at 1(800)323-8622.

New to the fair this year will be photo ID cards from the Illinois Secretary of State's office. Cards are issued to persons over age 65, or who have disabilities. The ID card is a valid form of identification. Documents required for issuance of an ID are Social Security Card plus to acceptable forms of identification that provide name, date of birth, residency and signature.

Three Listen and Learn programs will be presented featuring experts from Good Shepherd Hospital and the Barrington Police Dept. The Listen and Learn topics include "Older Adult Exercise," "Nutrition," and "Self-defense for Seniors."

For more information about Good Shepherd's Senior Health and Fitness Fair, call 382-7277. Free bus service is available through Older Adults Services. Rides must be scheduled in advance by calling 1(800)995-4267.

Wisdom of aging: Why retire when there's gold between your ears?

SAL MARINO

The common belief among young people is that those of us who are over 65 tend to lose our minds and live off the intellectual fat we've accumulated over time. They assume that it's only a short step from "being in the groove" to "being in the grave."

Although I'm at an age when "I'm beginning to feel my corns more than my oats, I still have plenty of get-up-and-go. And the half-step I have lost in speed I make up in savvy.

Aging is inevitable. Growing old is not. We all age. But we don't have to grow old. Growing old is a bad habit no elder executive should develop. Age, however, is a great teacher. It teaches us that ideas don't work unless people do, that people who think they can't are usually right, and that those who disregard the mistakes of the past will inevitably repeat them in the future. Age teaches us that genius has its limitations but stupidity does not, and that the speed of the leader determines the pace of the pack.

Fast-track people in their 30s and 40s have no conception about what 70-year-old people think or what they think about. The 70-year-old, on the other hand, knows exactly what the 30-year-old person thinks. They were all 30 once. And they interface with 30- to 40-year-olds a lot, many of whom are the children of 70-year-olds. Some of them are their relatives. Some of them are their neighbors' kids. Some of them are their employees. Some of them are their bosses. And some of them are even their spouses.

Mostly, 30- to 40-year-olds think about themselves. And when they think about us elder folks (which they do very little), they think we're in the way, or out of date, or out of step, or out of reason, or over the hill, or in another world. Ancient types like us aren't with it, for it, or into it. We're mostly too old, too set in our ways, and too conservative. We're too critical, too opinionated, too demanding, and too authoritarian. In their minds, we not only created the generation gap—we are the generation gap.

It's time to change the perception that people over 65 are old, that they are useless, that they should be retired rather than employed, and tolerated rather than respected. It's time to correct the impression that elder people are in poor health, uninteresting, unproductive, and unteachable, that we can't take care of ourselves, that we should summarily be relegated to a temporary parking lot called retirement until we die, and that old age is a period of decline rather than a period of new growth and development.

I want to get the message across to fast-moving, disinterested youngsters that they would be wise to avoid the mistake made by a researcher friend who was studying fleas. He put a flea on his desk and trained it to jump over his finger at his command. Then he pulled off two of the flea's six legs. "Jump," he ordered. The flea jumped. Two more legs were removed. Again, the flea jumped when commanded to do so. Finally, the researcher pulled off the remaining two legs. "Jump," he commanded. The flea did not move. With that, the scientist reported: "My research proves conclusively that when a flea loses all six of its legs, it becomes deaf."

Until now, young executives on the move have been deaf to their older associates. I recommend they read Ken Dychtwald's "Age Wave," it will change their view of the future. Dychtwald sees three separate and unprecedented demographic phenomena affecting our lives:

"The Senior Boom." Americans will live longer than ever before, and older Americans are healthier, more active, more vigorous, and more influential than any other older generation in history.

"The Birth Dearth." A decade ago, fertility in the United States plummeted to its lowest point ever. It has been hovering there ever since, and it's not likely to change. The great population of elders is not being offset by an explosion of children.

"The Aging of Baby Boomers." As the boomers approach 50 and pass it, their numbers will combine with the other two demographic changes to produce a historic shift in the concerns, structure, and style of America."

And a historic shift in American industries' ability to cope with these dramatic changes. Chemists tell us that the chemical value of the human body is approximately 98 cents. On the other hand, electronic engineers estimate that it would cost $20 billion to duplicate the marvels of the human brain.

This suggests that the space we should be exploring more is the inner space between our elder executives' ears. It is full of golden knowledge collected and stored over seven or more decades.

It needs to be mined and shared.

Hormone replacement

Hormone replacement therapy is something women approaching menopause hear about frequently. What exactly is hormone replacement therapy? What are the benefits? Are there side effects? These and other questions will be answered at Highland Park Hospital's Lifespan Series for Women on Wednesday, April 30.

"Hormone Replacement Therapy: Is It Right For Me?" will offer a panel of Highland Park Hospital experts, including obstetricians and gynecologist, Heather Krantz, MD, reproductive endocrinologist and medical director of the hospital's Fertility Center Edward Marut, MN, breast surgeon Sharon Noble, MD, and Michael DiMuzio, PhD, director of the Osteoporosis Prevention and Research Center. The program is free and will be held from 7:30 to 9 p.m. in the hospital's Education Center. For registration and additional information, call 432-1161.

LAKE FOREST

Speech screenings

To celebrate "Better Speech and Hearing Month," the Lake Forest hospital Audiology Dept. is offering free hearing screenings throughout the month of May. The hearing screening only identifies normal or abnormal hearing. This is not a complete audiological evaluation. If you already know you have a hearing loss or wear a hearing aid, you do not need a hearing screening. However, if you, a friend, or a family member is not sure that your hearing is normal, this hearing screening would be of value. To schedule a five minute hearing screening, call the Audiology department at 234-6114.

Caring for caregivers

For caregivers, finding meaning and a purpose in what can sometimes feel like a hopeless situation is pivotal to the care they offer their patients. RUSH Medical Center researcher Carol J. Farran, DNS, RN, has been involved in the care of families of persons with Alzheimer's disease for the past 11 years. "Caring for Our Caregivers," will be held from 7 to 9 p.m., Wednesday, April 30 at 900 Bays Building Conference on the Lake Forest Hospital campus. In this program, Dr. Farran shares with health care professionals and caregivers the tools needed to help patients and their families remain hopeful in the face of incurable conditions. For reservations, call Educational Resources at 234-6112.

Victory nurse saves man at grocery store

Laura Delano, RN, Victory Memorial Hospital, is being commended by her peers at Victory for performing CPR on a man who collapsed at the Jewel Food store in Gurnee.

Delano was doing her grocery shopping when she heard an emergency page on the store speaker telling of a fallen shopper in one of the aisles. She quickly went to the aisle where she found a man in his early 50s unconscious, not breathing and without a pulse. He had been shopping with his young daughter, when he suffered some sort of attack and fell backwards, cracking his head on the floor with the force of the fall.

Delano asked other shoppers at the scene if they knew what had happened. No one did. She and another woman (a CPR instructor) immediately began CPR. "His young daughter was standing behind me watching the whole thing—that was probably the hardest part," says Delano.

Within two minutes the man's pulse came back and he started breathing again. Thirty seconds later paramedics arrived on the scene and Delano assisted them by preparing the IV bags and briefing them on what she had done.

The man was taken to Saint Therese Medical Center. The emergency room doctor on duty called Delano that night and told her the man had suffered a heart attack. The patient was in the hospital for two weeks and when he was released he called Delano.

"It was a strange feeling to hear his voice on the phone," she says. "It was good to know that he was okay. He said that he didn't know how to thank me," she says.

"He was at home and doing fine. He wasn't sure what had happened to him that day at Jewel. He also said he had gone to St. Francis Hospital in Evanston for an angiogram where they had found some blockage, but they're not planning on doing anything with it right now."

"I see this kind of thing at work a lot," says Delano, "but it's so much more intense when you're at the Jewel with no crash cart, no doctors and there's nobody there to help you."

Delano and the woman who worked with her to save the man have been nominated for the American Red Cross Merit of Honor by Capt. Barry Henby of the Gurnee Fire Dept. This is the highest award issued by the American Red Cross to individuals who save or sustain a life as a result of training through the American Red Cross.

"If they hadn't acted so quickly, there could have been very tragic results," said Capt. Henby.

"We're very proud of her," says Mairi Pillie-Jakubia, Delano's supervisor at Victory.

"We're very proud that her involvement helped to save a life."

Cancer screenings available during health fair

Easy access to healthcare services and information is one of the most important concepts in healthcare today, and it's an idea which is being implemented at Midwestern Regional Medical Center, 2520 Elisha Ave., in Zion.

Mammography screenings for breast cancer, and digital exam and prostate specific antigen blood test for prostate cancer will both be available without making an appointment during a spring health fair at the hospital on Saturday, April 26 from 9 a.m. to noon. The mammography exam—performed by a caring, skilled technologist—will cost $20. The prostate exam—performed by a board-certified urologist—will be free.

"No one likes to think about getting cancer," says Kathleen Payton, director of community health at Midwestern, "but when you know as much as you can about it, you can help reduce the fear and anxiety that many people have."

Midwestern's spring health fair focuses on what people need to know to prevent cancer and detect it early. Physicians and staff—including Spanish-speaking staff—will be available to answer questions and provide the screenings and information that people are looking for.

The following screenings, demonstrations, and information will be available during the health fair:

• Free prostate cancer screening (digital exam and prostate specific antigen blood test). Call 847-731-4109 to register.

- $20 mammogram (no preregistration necessary).
- Breast self examination instructions
- Skin cancer screening
- Colorectal cancer screening
- Oral cancer screening
- Consultation with a physician who will answer your questions about cancer
- Low-fat cooking demonstration
- Mind-body medicine consultation
- Pastoral care consultation
- Information on new treatments for cancer, including access to clinical trials and treatment protocols
- Information on local cancer support groups

- Information on prosthetics and hair replacement by Hair Response, Inc.
- Search the Internet on a computer for the latest, most up-to-date information
- Information on holistic medicine by Partners in Healing
- Information from the American Cancer Society
- Information from Cancer Treatment Centers of America
- Information from the Cancer Resource Center
- Information on nutrition supplements from Shelby Health Systems

The cancer program at Midwestern is managed by Cancer Treatment Centers of America. For more information about the health fair, call Midwestern at 731-4109.

GSH immunizes more than 500 children

Hundreds of children living in Lake County have been immunized against potentially life-threatening diseases as a result of attending Good Shepherd Hospital's monthly child immunization clinics. In the first six months that Good Shepherd began offering the regular clinics, more than 500 children have been immunized.

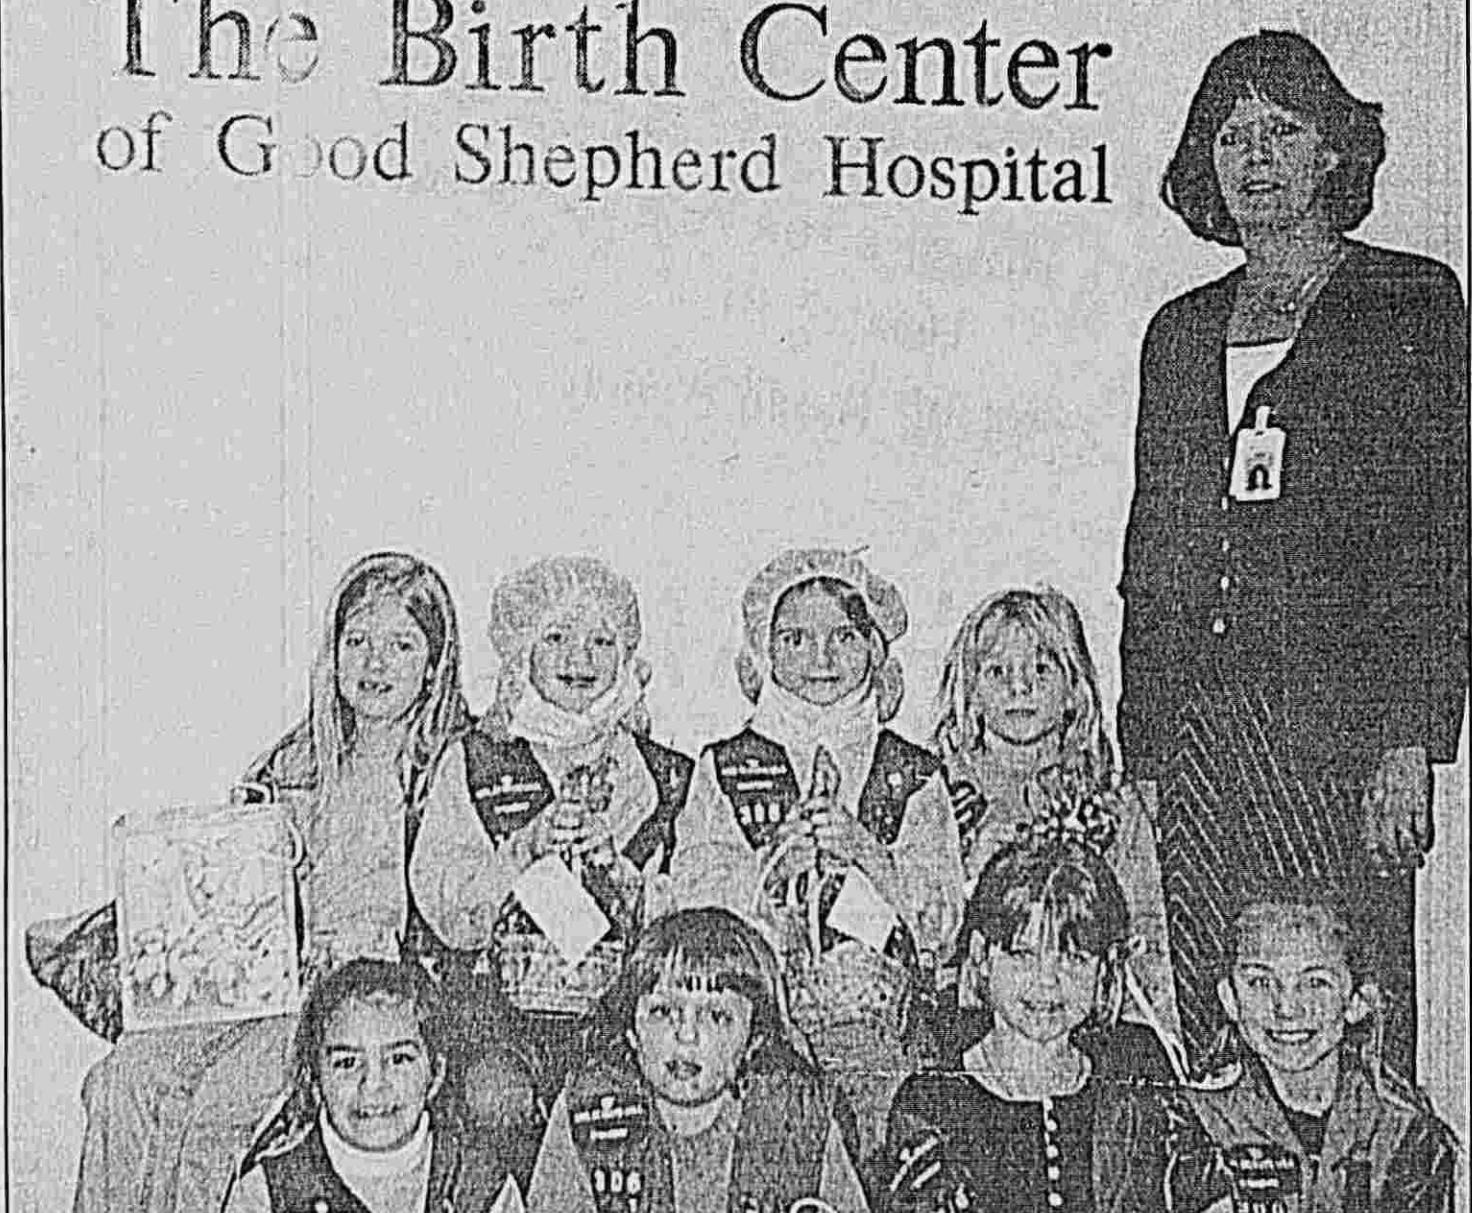

"The clinics are offered as part of the hospital's ongoing commitment to community health outreach activities and are coordinated in cooperation with the Lake County Community Health Partnership," said Sylvia Boeder, Good Shepherd's director of community relations.

The Partnership is a collaborative network of all eight Lake County hospitals, the Lake County Health Dept., the Lake County Medical Society, Lake County schools, Lake County Board, College of Lake County, the United Way of Lake County, local businesses and many other social service organizations.

Good Shepherd's monthly immunization clinics are offered from 5 to 7 p.m. on the first Tuesday of every month. The cost of each immunization is $6.

For further information, call 1(800)323-8622.

YOUR EYES

by Charlotte F. Nielsen O.D.

Our eyes change a little every day. Over a period of months or years, the slight daily changes can add up to a major change in the ability to see well and easily. Because the change is so gradual, we may not be aware that seeing is more difficult; we accept the added strain and effort of seeing as normal because we have become used to it gradually.

The added work involved in forcing our eyes to see without correction saps our energy, causes nervousness and irritability. Routine daily activity becomes drudgery and we are often tired and just plain weary, all because we neglect our eyes!

Has it been too long since your eyes have been examined? Why suffer from deficient eyesight? Make an appointment to have your eyes examined soon.

216 million 'steps' closer to cure for HIV/AIDS

Participants in Chicago's Workout for Hope will burn more than 600,000 calories as they take more than five millions steps toward a cure for HIV/AIDS and related cancers. On Saturday, April 26 more than 500 local participants will take part in a nationwide effort to raise funds for HIV/AIDS and related cancer research at the City of Hope National Medical Center and Beckman Research Institute. Participants at America's largest and most dynamic health and fitness event will work out at 75 sites nationwide. Leading the Chicago Workout—from 9 a.m. to noon, Saturday, April 26 at the Rosemont Convention Center—will be Chairpeople Maryellen Bowman and Beverly Beck.

"City of Hope researchers are continuing to make important discoveries, including a new human trial of gene therapy treatment for HIV, that will bring hope to those fighting HIV/AIDS," said Bowman. "I am honored to be a part of this united effort that gives people the opportunity to do something they love to help others."

Workout for Hope began in San Francisco as a fund-raiser to support HIV/AIDS and related cancer research at the City of Hope National Medical Center and Beckman Research Institute. The event has grown to include more than 75 cities nationwide.

The event truly is making a difference in the battle against HIV/AIDS as years of fund raising (more than $10 million) for scientific research at City of Hope is paying off. Recently City of Hope announced FDA approval for clinical trials of an innovative gene therapy treatment for HIV-positive patients.

The clinical trials are designed to determine whether genetically altered blood "stem" cells can be transplanted back into persons with HIV. The goal is to eventually determine whether such an approach could slow or altogether halt the onset of AIDS.

Ribozymes, which attack HIV, were developed at City of Hope with support from the Workout for Hope effort. These ribozymes are engineered to recognize and sever the molecular materials necessary for the virus to replicate. Then the stem cells will be reinfused back into the patient's bone marrow to see if they can grow and repopulate the blood with protected cells. If this occurs, it is possible that this novel method of treatment could stop the virus from replicating and slow the progression of AIDS.

In the trials, City of Hope researchers are applying their expertise in stem cell harvest, an expertise that has been developed through decades of pioneering work in bone marrow transplantation, which is used to treat cancer.

If the cells successfully undergo transplant, researchers say this new therapy may provide an alternative method for long-lasting or even permanent control of HIV for those infected.

For example, this approach may provide an option to present "drug cocktail" therapies for those who can not benefit from—or cannot afford—these treatments.

The promise for molecular scissors is that once proven effective in treating HIV/AIDS, this technique could be effective in treating many other diseases, including cancer, than can be addressed at the molecular level.

To find out more about City of Hope, call 1(800)779-5893.

Memory of Long Grove man honored with genuine heroes

Trinity names scholarship for Darnell Martin

NANCY BURGESS

Correspondent

This year's Genuine Heroes Sports Night for Trinity International University was held at the Lincolnshire Marriott. It was an evening to raise money for minority scholarships and to honor men who personify the ideals of a genuine hero, men who demonstrate strength of faith and character in their everyday lives.

This year's event honored former Long Grove resident Darnell Martin, a senior executive at Baxter who passed away last year from cancer. A scholarship was dedicated in his name to the university's top athlete.

Leslie Frazier, former Chicago Bear defensive back and Trinity International University head coach since 1988 and current University of Illinois head football coach received an award for his years of service, and Bill McCartney founder of Promise Keepers, and former University of Colorado football coach was also honored.

During his speech, Frazier, reminisced about last year's event. He remembers his friend Darnell Martin waving to him when Frazier received the 1996 Genuine Heroes award and giving him the thumbs up sign. Frazier had taken the job as the coach at Trinity International College in Deerfield at the urging of Darnell because it would be "a great opportunity to influence lives by coaching."

Martin was not present at the 1997 Genuine Heroes Sports Night, but his dream of creating a scholarship for the Trinity top 75th anniversary of Main Street Library, Darnell Martin Award and Scholarship rewards Trinity International University's top athlete for their hard work both in athletics and academics.

In the presence of local celebrities and athletes Darnell's widow, Rhoda Martin and her daughter Melissa, presented the award to this year's senior linebacker John Lambert.

Lambert earned the award as a player who "exemplified athletic ability, academic excellence, and spiritual commitment." He gratefully accepted the award and thanked those present who inspired him to achieve excellence.

Lake Zurich counts blessings 30 years later

SPENCER SCHEIN

Staff Reporter

Thirty years after a devastating tornado swept through Lake Zurich, residents of the southern Lake County town still hold in amazement the fact no one was killed in the storm.

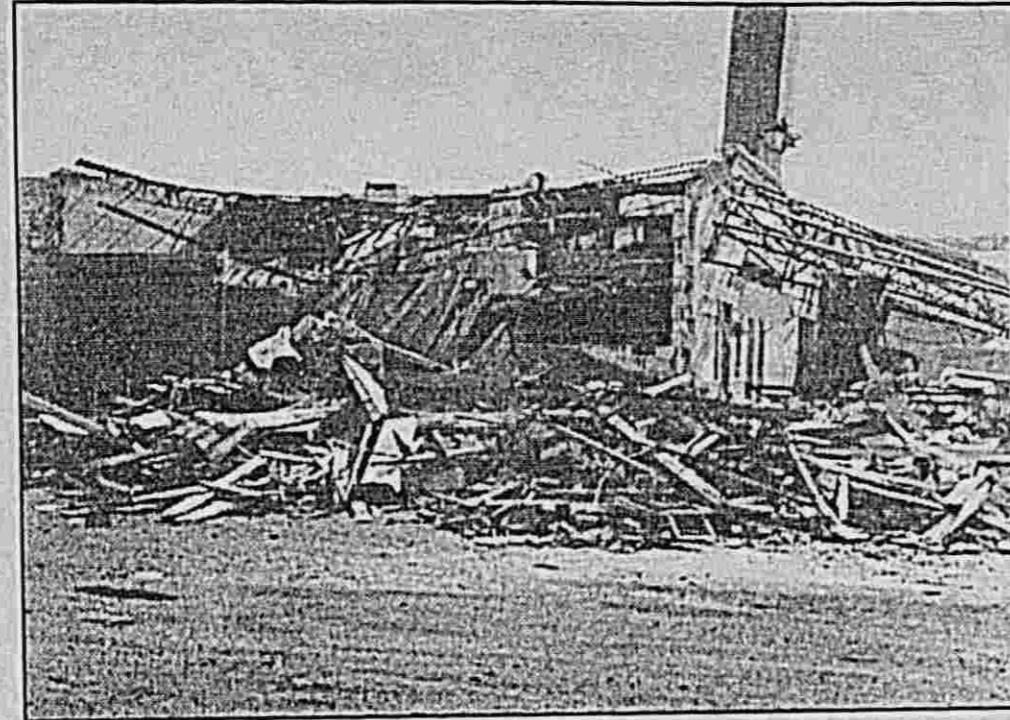

The tornado swept through Illinois April 21, 1967, touching down in Belvidere and Oak Park before slamming down on Lake Zurich at 5:05 p.m.

Ironically, this week also marks the anniversary of the Zion tornado which damaged large portions of the city of Zion and caused wind damage throughout Lake County. That storm occurred April 19, 1996.

The most heavily damaged building in Lake Zurich was Seth Paine School, where students had left just hours before. The school, which had opened in 1960 had to be totally rebuilt and reopened in 1968.

"It was just rubble," recalled

Schroeder matriarch, 91, Lake County native

Lydia M. Schroeder, 91, wife of the late Marshall Schroeder founder of Lakeland Publishers, Inc., died April 22 at her home.

Mrs. Schroeder was born May 20, 1905 in Prairie View. She was a life-long resident of Lake County and had resided in the Long Lake/Ingleside area since 1958.

She had been associated in various capacities with the publishing company since its founding in 1956. She established the M.R. Schroeder/Lakeland Newspapers Scholarship at the College of Lake County at the time of her retirement in 1991 at the age of 85. The scholarship is awarded by the college faculty to a student studying print journalism annually. It covers the cost of tuition and books.

Both she and her husband, Marshall, were raised in Vernon Township and had also resided in Libertyville during their 61-year marriage.

Marshall preceded his wife in death in 1986.

Mrs. Schroeder was active with Calvary Presbyterian Church. The Rev. Lisle Kaufmann will officiate at 10 a.m. services Friday at Ringa Funeral Home, Lake Villa.

Survivors include her sons; William H. (Nancy) Schroeder of Ingleside and M. Robert (Elizabeth) Schroeder of Antioch.

Also surviving are: eight grandchildren, William M. Schroeder (Lisa) of Grayslake; Jill (Ralph) DePasquale of Ingleside; Karen (Brian) O'Toole of Spring Grove; Robert Schroeder of Ingleside; Judith (Glenn) Frye of Sugar

Grove, Ill.; Cynthia (George) Kalina of Lindenhurst; Susan Davis of Antioch and Elizabeth (Paul)

Jeziorski of Cary, North Carolina.

She has 11 great-grandchildren.

She is also survived by a brother, William H. Meyer of Richmond.

Mrs. Schroeder was preceded in death by her brother, George Meyer of Phoenix, Ariz.

Interment will be in the Vernon Cemetery, Half Day. Arrangements are being held by Ringa Funeral Home with visitation scheduled for 3 to 9 p.m. Thursday evening at 122 S. Milwaukee Ave., Lake Villa.

Memorials to Calvary Presbyterian Church would be appreciated.

northern portion of the village were severely damaged, while another 47 homes and Seth Paine Elementary School were destroyed by the high winds.

The tornado was said to have come out of the west, beginning in North Barrington, first striking Honey Lake and then touching down in the Lake Zurich Heights and Manor subdivisions, Acorn Acres subdivision in Hawthorn Woods, unincorporated Gilmer Road and finally ended in Mundelein.

Warnings of bad weather on radio and television provided everyone with notice that a bad storm was coming. This, along with the quick action and knowledge of what to do in a tornado kept everyone alive, with numerous injuries reported, but no reported deaths.

Bertagnoli, of Northcrest Road, said the instructions he gave to his late wife Evelyn are what saved her life, and the life of their son Michael that day.

"I instructed them to go to the southwest corner (of the house), because tornadoes come from that corner, and so the idea was every thing would blow over," he said.

That was fortuitous, as Bertagnoli was to find out after taking a train home from his job at Illinois Bell in the Chicago Loop.

"My house was totally wiped out," he said. "Just the southwest corner walls stood without the roof."

Today the only remnants of the tornado that remain are the memories of residents.

In the Zion storm, a drive through town still shows the loss of trees, more than 300 were taken out by the storm. But, the block of homes destroyed have been rebuilt and the old theater building has been torn down and replaced with additional parking.

Preservation conference will explore how to protect county's history

Is there anything left to save in Lake County? The Byron Colby Barn at Prairie Crossing will be the site for a conference on Historic Preservation in Lake County on Saturday, April 26.

The conference will explore ways to protect the human and natural history that contributes to the character and quality of life here in Lake County.

Can development and preservation work side by side? This conference will help assess preservation efforts that work in conjunction with rapid development, and explore ways to incorporate preservation into the land use planning process.

A variety of different speakers are on the conference agenda. Lake County Board member Pam Newton will offer an official perspective on the importance of good planning. Attendees will also hear from Forest Preserve District President Robert Buhai, and Lake County Board Member Al

Westerman, who is an expert on the effects of human settlement on the natural landscape of Lake County. Phillip Bus and Mark VanKerkoff from Kane County's Development Dept. will share insights into strategies that have worked to integrate development and preservation in Kane County. Grayslake's Mayor Pat Carey, and Libertyville's Main Street Director, Dan Timm, will address Historic preservation and the successful redevelopment of downtown districts.

The conference is from 8:30 a.m. to 2 p.m. The cost of the conference is only $15 per person and includes lunch. Lunchtime entertainment will be provided by fiddler Lyn Chirps. The Byron Colby Barn is located at the main entrance to Prairie Crossing, at the traffic light on Route 45 one half mile south of Route 120 in Grayslake. The Century old barn was saved from demolition and re-erected at Prairie Crossing to serve as a community center and site for special events.

space is limited. For information or to make reservations call Ellen Ewing at 548-5400 or Melinda Willen at 223-6933.

If we don't act now to save our historic places the problem will just disappear—and we'll lose a vital part of our Lake County heritage.

Accident charges filed

KENOSHA COUNTY—Randy Bresnahan, 18, of Lake Villa was charged with four counts of vehicular homicide in connection with the death of a Chicago family in Salem Township, April 19.

Bresnahan was also charged with one count of physical harm with a motor vehicle. He was indicted in Kenosha County Courthouse April 20.

He allegedly crossed the centerline and struck a 1995 Mazda Protege on County Highway C, according to

Kenosha County Sheriff's Department officials.

All four members of the Sawczuk family were killed. Peter, 46, his wife Sharon, 45, and daughters Elizabeth, 17 and Kathryn, 14.

Bresnahan had a blood alcohol reading of .11. The legal limit in Wisconsin is .10.

A passenger, Anthony Pease, 18 also of Lake Villa, was also injured in the accident.—by ALEC JUNGE

LAKE VILLA TOWNSHIP—Retiring Highway Commissioner Jim Semmerling was red tagged by the Lake County Building Department.

Semmerling reportedly was creating a concrete barrier between the highway department and Lake Villa Township property, according to Sue Hanson, township supervisor.

The township board held an emergency meeting April 21, to have the township attorney take whatever steps are necessary to prevent Semmerling from continuing the work.

Hanson said the red tag accomplishes the same thing. This move was decided just to protect the township property.

Semmerling was told to stop his work and restore the property as close as possible by county officials.—by ALEC JUNGE

School in space crunch

GRAYSLAKE—No sooner than one school could be built, it's time to start planning construction of another. In order to solve a lack of space in Grayslake District 46 this coming fall a construction trailer will be remodeled and used to house the speech, language, social work and gifted education programs at Lakeview School.

Election consolidation bill passes State House of Representatives

State Rep. Andrea Moore (R-Libertyville) is making good on a promise to increase accountability in the election process by sponsoring legislation that would consolidate local elections for school board and municipal officials.

Moore believes the measure would benefit voters who would hear property tax issues debated from both government perspectives during the campaign.

House Bill 652 moves the nonpartisan election of offices such as school boards and community college trustees from November of odd-years to the following April, eliminating the November election entirely.

School board members would then be elected on the same spring ballot as mayors, aldermen and village trustees.

"School board elections have traditionally low voter turnouts, approximately 25 percent, yet the elected school boards control 60 percent of our property tax dollars," Moore said. "On the other hand, issues relating to growth and development that impact our property tax bills are controlled by local municipal officials. By combining the two elections, we're setting the stage for meaningful, thorough debate of the property tax issues at election time."

Results of a constituent survey conducted by Moore found an overwhelming majority of respondents favoring the election consolidation.

"Nearly 1,700 of those responding said they favored the idea. Only 122 said they didn't," Moore said. "This is a way to encourage greater accountability from candidates and wider participation of voters. Additionally, we'll be able to save the cost of conducting one election every other year."

The bill has successfully passed the House and now moves on to the Senate for further consideration.

CLC celebrates community college month

The College of Lake County is joining other Illinois community colleges in observing Community College Month in April. The Illinois celebration is part of a national observance recognizing the contributions of the more than 1,200 two year colleges across the United States.

"In today's technology-driven, global economy, continuous learning is necessary for everyone," said CLC President Gretchen Naff. "Community colleges provide a nearby and affordable means for individuals to meet this challenge."

CLC is celebrating Community College Month with a variety of programs, including a student art exhibit through May 18, a free concert by the CLC jazz ensembles on April 25, a performance by jazz legend Maynard Ferguson on April 26 and a free choral concert on April 27.

For information, call 543-2243.

The district will then have to decide how to deal with the looming crises of the future—the need for a new school. The district just opened its new $6 million Meadowview School in August of 1996 and is already predicting it will need another school in the next three years. The district may have to get resourceful for a few years in its utilization of space until a new building can be constructed.

Assistant Superintendent Dr. Orv Clark said if they do plan to look at constructing a new school, utilizing mobile classrooms during the interim and letting class sizes rise in the next two years would be the best solution. Lakeview is currently utilizing its special use rooms for classrooms and the special use classes such as art and music have been moved into the lunchroom.

Chief seeks amusement tax talk

GURNEE—Faced with the reality that many voters thought a leisure center was too expensive, Gurnee Park Dist. officials are looking to other sources of revenue.

The first stop was Gurnee Village Hall for a pitch for discussion and possible inclusion in the village's amusement tax fund allocation.

Gurnee voters rejected with 70 percent no votes, a proposed leisure center on the April 1 ballot. Kaplan hinted a future bid would be better if built in phases with fewer amenities. The village plans a committee to study the amusement tax rate, which has not changed at 40 cents per customer at the theme park, for 10 years.

Six Flags Great America pays the bulk of the tax. Additional sources of amusement tax funds are being considered—including movie tickets.—by STEVE PETERSON

Resident extinguishes fire

HAWTHORN WOODS—A resident is lauding two residents with having saved his family's home from burning to the ground. Peter Krupczak, 21, and his sister, Brigid, a senior at Lake Zurich High School, alerted authorities to a house on fire the afternoon of April 15.

Peter Krupczak then rushed over to the scene, just a short drive from his home, where he tried to keep the fire from spreading from beyond the back porch to the rest of the home. Two Hawthorn Woods police officers were next to arrive, and the three of them had the fire under control by the time Lake Zurich fire officials arrived.

Income tax plan zings successful

Income redistribution, which is at the heart of all the plans being advanced for Illinois school funding reform, is repugnant to conservatives because it penalizes saving and investment.

That's why it is so difficult for Republican legislators, particularly those representing well-off suburbs in Lake County and neighboring collar counties, to work up much excitement for Gov. Jim Edgar's proposals to raise the state proportion for public school funding.

Edgar is talking about coupling an income tax hike with real estate tax relief to raise more money for schools. Many suburbanites argue that they are willing to pay for quality education with high real estate taxes. They may grouse about high taxes, but they know why they are paying and what they are getting when taxes are spent locally.

There is no denying that the current funding system, relying so heavily on local real estate taxes, contributes to startling disparities from district to district. There is no better example of this than in Lake County when per pupil expenditures, for example, are compared in upscale Libertyville, Lake Forest and Highland Park to economically stressed Waukegan, North Chicago and Round Lake.

It's unfair, though, to scold residents of economically advantaged communities and their representatives as insensitive and callous "enemies of children." There are all sorts of reasons why people choose to live where they do, the quality of local education being only one.

In embracing the income tax hike approach, Edgar has done a 180 degree turn from his position when winning reelection over Democrat Dawn Clark Netsch, who ran on a plank of helping education by increasing the state income tax. Democrats obviously don't have a lock on income redistribution schemes.

Politicians in high places in both parties shy away from other suggestions for improving public education such as a sales tax hike, increasing sin taxes, creating charter districts and establishing a voucher system. Polls on a sales tax hike earmarked for education find surprising support.

The state could easily increase its level of 32 percent support of education by employing a variety of means. Political leaders can be ingeniously creative when it comes to finding ways to advance gambling, but they approach education with tunnel vision.

Legislators can't ignore school funding 'window'

BOB HAISMAN

The system of funding schools in Illinois is broken.

Twenty years of legislative foot dragging and legislative neglect of the schools makes this year a must for school funding reform in Illinois. We have a window of opportunity this spring to fix our broken school funding system. We must do this our present system of funding schools. Illinois ranks 44th out of the 50 states with regard to inequality of funding. There are only six states in the union which are in worse condition than Illinois when it comes to inequitable funding. The quality of a child's education should not be an accident of birth.

We must raise the state-supported foundation level for each student in Illinois to $4,500. This will raise the level in poorer districts, yet it will not harm districts which have more resources. This is essential—no system of school funding reform can be implemented which will hurt even one school district. No child's education can be cut back to help another. All children must be helped.

Illinois ranks 48th in the amount of state aid to education. Our state must put more money into funding schools. All districts and all children must be helped, and substantial property tax relief must be guaranteed. It is our moral responsibility to provide a quality education for every child in the state of Illinois. All 1.9 million children must have access to a quality school.

Tell your legislators—"Don't come home this spring without school funding reform." The future of Illinois' 1.9 million children hangs in the balance.

Editor's note: Bob Haisman is president of the Illinois Education Assn.-NEA, the largest teachers' union in the state.

COMMENTARY

before the political obstacles of a governor's election and a legislative remap close that window of opportunity until well into the next century.

The time for the legislature to act is now. We must demand that our legislators not come home until school funding reform is accomplished. They have all promised that this is the year for school funding reform. Let us make sure that they live up to their promises.

Our system of funding schools is overly dependent on local property taxes. That is because the state has decreased its percentage of school funding drastically over the last 20 years (from 50 percent in 1976 to 30 percent in 1997). Local property taxes have risen to make up for the state's failure to live up to its responsibility to fund the schools. Any system of school funding reform must contain substantial guarantees of property tax relief.

There is great inequity in

BILL SCHROEDER

Publisher

There is a remarkable similarity between Lake County, Ill., and Bucks County, Pa., the fabled rolling countryside of bucolic farms, ultimate toasty estates, historic inns and landmarks of significant events in our nation's history.

Just a few miles south of New Hope, a touristy, 250-year-old village resembling our own recreated Village of Long Grove, is the site of a much-heralded Revolutionary War event, Gen. George Washington's revered crossing of the Delaware River to save his bedraggled Continental army.

Both Lake and Bucks counties are suburban enclaves on the outskirts of major metropolitan areas. Bucks County runs north along the Delaware from Philadelphia. High speed commuter rail service allows New York City workers to enjoy the rural Bucks County lifestyle.

Major tollway thoroughfares divide both counties, the legendary Pennsylvania Turnpike providing Bucks motorists quick access to the "outer world." Both Lake and Bucks are highly stratified socially and economically where only slivers of geography separate blue collar towns from Fortune 500 executives. Law enforcement in both counties is being engulfed with inter-city drug traffic. There are high profile political struggles going on in both counties over the ravages of urban growth and over development. Lake and Bucks populations are about the same. Each shares a population projection of well over 600,000 by the year 2020. Bucks has 54 municipalities. Lake has 52.

A visitor from northeastern Illinois to Bucks County, Pa., immediately feels "at home" with crowded two lane highways and strip malls intruding on the sensibilities from a backdrop of open green fields separating neighborhoods of newly constructed upscale homes. We have our 7-11's and White Hens. Bucks has Wa Was.

Members of the Bucks County Commission have conceived a $115.6 million plan to preserve open space and conserve farm lands that would warm the hearts of Lake County open space and preservation advocates. Voters will be asked May 20 to approve a $59 million bond issue to preserve about 15,000 acres of farmland, parks and "unique natural areas." The $59 million is designed to generate an additional $56.5 in state and local matching funds.

All well and good. There's a lot to be said about curbing growth that threatens to pave over the very ground our forefathers traversed in establishing the United States of America. Here's the rub.

Lower Bucks, the growth impacted sector adjacent to metro Philadelphia and industrial Trenton, N.J., has little to gain. Urbanization has eaten up all available space. Local politicians look darkly upon the bond issue. Residents of Central and Upper Bucks, where bond issue supporters say the people in Lower Bucks were dumb enough to allow poor planning. They want to save farms and acquire open space while the farms and space still exist.

Sound familiar?

County officials estimate the bond issue will cost the average Bucks homeowner $20 per year. Officials in middle income townships say they'll have to raise taxes to meet matching requirements.

County Commissioner Sandra Miller calls the plan "imperfect, but the best plan we could come up with to preserve the beauty of this county. I think people in densely populated areas appreciate the landscape of a farm community."

This observer is pulling for the bond issue passage. Instead of a dignified marker on a quaint tree-lined roadway, I'd hate to see the plaque marking George Washington's crossing of the Delaware poking out from the asphalt of a convenience store parking lot.

Pastor offers apology to all homosexuals

REV. KERRY S. DOYAL

In light of your paper's prominent coverage of College of Lake County's Spectrum Club's sponsorship of Gay Pride Week events (April 11, C-1), I felt a deep need to write a response as a Christian and a pastor.

I would appreciate it if you would share my open letter to the homosexuals of our community. I title my letter: "An open Apology

To All Homosexuals from a Local Pastor."

As a pastor of a local church

COMMENTARY

and as an individual Christian, we need to ask your forgiveness. We have carried out offenses against you as individuals and as a community. We have wronged you in many ways and we need to make things right. We have also seen and caused a sad closing down of communication between ourselves and you as individuals and a community.

First of all, often when we have made clear our disapproval of a homosexual lifestyle, we have at times withheld our love and acceptance of you as individuals whom Christ loves dearly. We have been guilty of rejecting you as friends, family neighbors, co-workers and fellow humans. Such rejection of you, intended or unintended by us, is unacceptable and understandably appalling. We ask your forgiveness.

Secondly, we need to ask your forgiveness for our self-righteous attitudes. We have been blindly self-righteous in focusing on this sin, while conveniently minimizing or ignoring other sins, most especially our own. God is displeased with our sin too. We have come to see and believe such self-righteous hypocrisy must grieve God's heart as well as wound yours. We need to be equally vexed about our own issues, which are far See COMMENTARY page C5

PARTY LINES

Party Lines, Lakeland Newspapers' column of political commentary is prepared from staff reports.

Cooperation—It took officials from Lake County, Ela Township, Deer Park and Kildeer to finalize details for a $410,000 flood relief program for 18 homes in Sturm Subdivision. When the joint meeting was all over, resident Debbie Jurs told a reporter, "It's a little late in coming. I just pray that it will really help." The project is designed to eliminate home evacuation of last February. The 40 year old subdivision was built in a natural stormwater collection area.

Optimistic—Can't beat this optimism. Cheryl Doros addressed members of the Grayslake Round Table on "What it means to be a village trustee" Tuesday morning—a week before the newly elected official will be formally installed. The Round Table is a

Budget protector—Libertyville Township Trustee Lynn Moran, only incumbent trustee retained in the April 1 election, vows to fight for the budget adopted before Mike Graham was re-elected, defeating Supervisor Ralph Swank.

Graham aims to dismantle portions of the budget, including elimination of a $36,000 a year administrative assistant, travel allowances, and a cushy free health insurance program.

Highway Comm. Wayne Kick, once a Graham ally, blanches at reports that his $400 per month travel allowance will be cut to $100. Kick says he refuses to dip into his own pocket to conduct township business.

Defending support— Senator Adeline Geo-Karis is defending her support of Cheri Neal Ditzig in the Zion Township race, "everyone seems to forget she only lost by six votes," Geo-Karis quipped. "If I had really been working hard for her, I'm sure I could have gotten the additional seven votes."

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

How to buy a senator

Editor:

I don't think Sen. Carol Moseley-Braun's vote on the Zantac extension should go unnoticed.

I am hoping for the benefit of the public in the use of Zantac we will see or be aware of how some of our legislators can be bought off.

My son has a very extreme stomach problem and the use of Zantac was the only medication to help. The cost could have been reduced 30 to 50 percent.

Lake Villa

Editor's note: U.S. Sen. Carol Moseley-Braun (D-Ill.) voted to sustain the monopoly of Glaxo, producer of Zantac. News reports revealed that in 1992 Moseley-Braun accepted $15,000 in speaking fees from Glaxo. The company also contributed $10,000 to her election campaign in 1992.

CLC impacts our lives

Editor:

This month, the College of Lake County has joined the nation's 1,100 community colleges in observing April as Community College Month. This celebration is an appropriate time to thank Lake County citizens for their continued support and also to reflect on the contributions that community colleges are making.

Nationwide, America's community colleges have had an extraordinary impact, making higher education affordable and accessible to almost everyone. Last year, nearly 10 million students chose U.S. community colleges to begin a college education, to master a new technology, to enter a new career, to refine existing skills or even to strengthen their competence as citizens and community members. In Illinois last fall, over 300,000 students took credit courses at community colleges. And at CLC, more than 14,000 students were enrolled, including about one in four recent Lake County high school graduates.

The reason that institutions like CLC are attracting so many students is that they are committed to providing community based education that makes a direct impact on the life of the community. CLC is assisting students of all ages in obtaining the educational tools they need to overcome barriers, accomplish goals and improve their quality of life.

Refreshing frenzy

Editor:

How do normally sensible women get sucked into the vortex of collecting beanie babies? It is a question I have asked myself frequently over the course of a week while chasing rumors and numerous "Golden Arches."

As I wandered from McDonald's to McDonald's around the northwest suburbs, I ran into friends I have not seen for a while, made new friends that I will see again, and communed with mothers, grandmothers, and women who just like the wholesome little bean toys.

There was, in the mele, a curious absence of children, as Happy Meal after Happy Meal was sold to us. Some woman bought as many as 20 at a time. I found myself yearning for more as long as they had them in stock, not unlike when you are at an auction and you just want to yell out to be a part of the action.

Throughout all the frenzy, there was a lot of joking and patience and excitement. We were all sharing a commonality of purpose in our missions.

In a world where the news headlines announce murders, drug abuses, bigotry, and tragedy, it is refreshing to see that we can be frenzied in a civilized manner and take time out of our lives to enjoy simple pleasures. It is rare to find a toy enjoyed by all ages that is not connected to negative sexual stereotypes or violence. Wouldn't it be nice to see a few more beanie baby headlines and a few less tragedies.

How about a Lakeland hall of fame?

The city of Waukegan recently added a fourth famous person to its unique "Walk of Stars." Artist Phil Austin was honored with a star in downtown Paravonian Park where three other favorite sons are enshrined: comedian Jack Benny, science-fiction writer Ray Bradbury and football great Otto Graham.

And I wondered, "What if western Lake County had a similar hall of fame? Whom would we lionize?"

With the help of history buffs, librarians and treasured old-timers, we gathered these names for starters: Actors Marlon Brando and Richard Widmark, actress Ann-Margot, author Gerald DiPego, baseball star Brett Butler, football player and professional wrestler Jim McMillen, and golfer Fred Hawkins.

Waukegan's "Walk of Stars" was a pet project of the city's late and likable mayor, Haig Paravonian. An athlete as a young man and an actor by avocation, Haig focused on superstars in sports, entertainment and the arts, forgetting in this case famous politicians or business tycoons, however fascinating.

For western Lake County, I propose a "Wall of Stars" rather than a Walk of Stars. We are some 30 separate communities with no common park. What we have in common, however, is creeping along in traffic on increasingly gridlocked roads. So, I suggest we use billboards.

Just kidding. Actually, I was thinking of my front yard, or maybe yours.

Brando was known as "Bud" during his days at Libertyville High School, circa 1940. He went to New York at age 19 to become an actor.

He recalls he was "a bad student, incorrigible." A woman who knew him says that imprisoned in school on a nice day he would jump up and shout, "I can't take it anymore!" Then he would escape through a window, into a tree and shinny down to freedom.

Widmark, born in Minnesota, lived with his family on Sunset Drive in Libertyville while attending Lake Forest College, class of '36. He appeared in college plays, won prizes for debating, played football and baseball, and was president of his senior class.

Widmark taught in the drama department for two years before leaving, like Brando, to pursue an acting career in New York. In his first of more than 50 movies, "Kiss of Death" in 1947, he made quite a notorious splash by playing a giggling, psychopathic killer who shoves a wheelchair-bound old woman down a flight of stairs!

Ann Margaret Ollson, born in Sweden in 1941, came here with her parents at age 8. She attended grade school in Fox Lake and high school in Wilmette. As a youngster she was well-known for her zest for voice, music and dancing lessons, and her eagerness to perform in local shows.

Gerald DiPego graduated from Round Lake High School in 1959. He now lives in California where he writes novels and screenplays. His most recent novel, "Cheevey," about a young man trapped in a troubled family, was published last year. An earlier novel, "Keeper of the City," is a detective story set in Chicago.

DiPego wrote the screenplay for the Burt Reynolds movie, "Sharky's Machine."

Brett Butler, a graduate of Libertyville High School, has been a big-league outfielder and valuable lead-off batter for 17 years, with the Atlanta Braves, Cleveland Indians, San Francisco Giants and currently the Los Angeles Dodgers.

Jim McMillen grew up in Grayslake and graduated from Libertyville High School. He was captain of the 1923 University of Illinois football team which featured the great Red Grange. McMillen and Grange both joined the fledgling Chicago Bears where McMillen became a confidant and financial angel of Papa Bear George Halas during the Depression years.

McMillen was a well-paid professional wrestler for 26 years and mayor of Antioch during the 1950s.

Fred Hawkins grew up in Antioch in a golf family and became a prominent player on the PGA Tour in the 1950s and 1960s. He finished second in the 1958 Masters tournament, one stroke behind Arnold Palmer.

Hawkins still plays in senior tournaments with other "legends of golf" and regularly returns to the Antioch area from his home in Florida to golf with his brother Chuck and friends.

If you know of other luminaries who might belong in a Lakeland hall of fame, I'd like to hear about them.

So there we are, your yard or mine?

more pervasive and influential than those of many other groups with which we differ.

Obviously from what I have written, our apology does not mean we agree with or condone homosexuality. We believe from a reasonable, simple study of scripture that homosexuality is one of many sins that offend a holy God. As we would never ask you to approve of sins towards God and others in our lives, we cannot do the same in yours.

We also ask that you not confuse our disapproval with fear or homophobia. As a family, we have had friends and guests who are homosexuals. They have shared our table, held our infants and enriched our lives as friends. We were honored to have a friend live with us who was HIV positive. We do not disagree because homosexuals scare us. Nor are we afraid that our own sexuality will be challenged, or that our personal sense of masculinity or femininity will be threatened or undermined. Very simply put, we disapprove of homosexual activities (not homosexuals as persons) because we see from the Bible that God does too, as he does with many other behaviors and attitudes. True acceptance of a person without approval of all they do is similar to a parent's unquestionable love for an erring child.

Our great concern about this issue may at times come across as fear. And yes, frankly, some Christians do fear homosexuals themselves. My fear is that homosexuality has, as many other sins, negative consequences for our nation and community.

While such talk may seem hopelessly intolerant, we would ask the freedom and privilege of holding to our perspective, offensive though it may be. To not grant such freedom to us would be itself an expression of intolerance. We grant your probable desire to change our position. We ask the permission in civil discussion and even polite debate to seek to alter your views as well, something we have felt that is increasingly unacceptable in our culture today. It seems a reverse form of fear and discrimination (heterophobia?).

So, while we differ, we can agree to be civil towards one another. We will seek to display greater expressions of love, friendship and common courtesy. Just as we understand not all homosexuals are Dahmers, pedophiles or militant ACT-UP members, so too we ask you to not assume all Christians are hate-filled, gay bashing homophobes.

Neither assumption is true or conducive to better relationships. Sadly, for those "Christians" who are hateful and fearful, we sincerely apologize. We are as embarrassed by them as you may be rightfully irritated. So, while there are gaps we cannot close, there are some bridges we can and must build. We only hope to consistently give you enough cause to allow us to try.

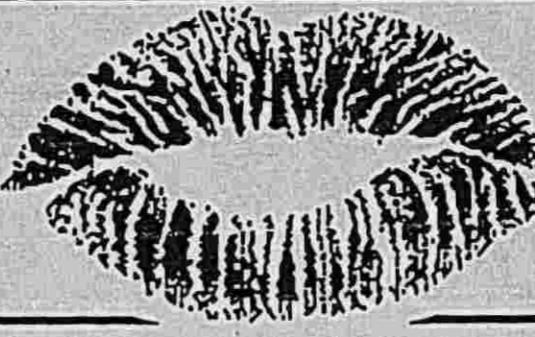

With love from a pretty vile forgiven sinner.

Face ugliness

Years ago, Gurnee was a quiet little village with lots of charm. I read with sadness the headline about the perception of Gurnee as an ugly town. I read with more sadness that a student, justifiably enough, won a prize with a science project named "Gurnee: Overpopulated and Polluted." Mayor Welton, if you think planting a few more trees will overcome the disastrous results of greed and the destruction of trees long before your time, then you must also think your new auto mall will be the new Gurnee botanic gardens. Get real, Gurnee is ugly. And your 10-year plan to beautify a measly four acres near town is just as pathetic. Why should it take so little time to ruin and so much time to repair?

Thanks for efforts

As a Colt football parent, I'd like to say thank you to Dave and Greg Peregian. Thanks for the positive time and effort given not only to the Colts organization over the years, but most importantly to the players themselves. Their fairness, along with their concern for the well-being of all players, will be greatly missed. We haven't just lost two coaches, but two people who really cared enough to make a difference for our youth.

Enforce law

This is to the Round Lake Beach police department. Burning is not allowed in our town; however, I've seen people doing this a lot the past few weeks. Please enforce this law.

What's the basis?

We live in the Fox Lake school and fire department district. We have our roads maintained by Grant Township's road commissioner. This area is served by the Spring Grove post office for mail, and this is called rural Spring Grove. Can anyone tell me the legal basis for this? We also vote in general elections in Fox Lake.

Let them pay

Congratulations to Doc Dam for having the nerve to bring this up about the school referendum. The ones that are complaining are the ones with all the kids in school. Let them pay for it. I'm tired of paying the fees for everyone else's kids. Let the ones that have all the kids pay the high taxes.

Show me the money

I heard on the radio that all to other senseless bureaucratic waste? We've relocated to this area from another state due to my spouse's job and never seen this kind of selfish attitude. What a shame. No wonder other countries are blowing us away in education. You're bringing this country down and each child in it one by one. How proud you must be.

Changes coming?

We were very disappointed to read that the new mayor of Lake Zurich is not going to replace heads of committees and departments. That's why people wanted a new administration. If they don't get rid of people, they're going to have to do business differently than they have been. There have to be some big changes.

All for tax

I wonder why our representatives are not putting laws before Congress for a national tax? There are 10 million illegal immigrants in this country not paying anything but sales tax. I see cleaning women running in and out of my neighbors' homes and I'm sure they're not paying any taxes. I think we need a national income tax for these people.

Stinky neighbors

My neighbors in Lake Zurich put their garbage out before 5 o'clock the day before pickup. Are they a little paranoid about getting their garbage out before the garbageman comes after 10 o'clock in the morning? It's really ugly to see their garbage out for two days in a row.

So sorry

This is to the residents of Spring Grove from a large representation of the residents of Fox Lake: We're very sorry for the activities of our existing village board and president. As you know, there's a changing of the guard coming. Fortunately, it's soon. We're sorry for the way you've been treated and we apologize. Hopefully, the new administration will be able to help make things better between us.

It'll kill ya

I'm calling about the cigarettes. It's awful funny that people are told that this can kill you. I've seen people in the store and say to them, "That'll kill ya." They say, "I know, but I'm going to stop some time." Let's be sensible. You knew that this was not good for you, so why'd you do it?

Unfair

This is to the people in District 114, Fox Lake, that were so upset that the school referendum got in. Let's look at the facts. You know that school is five hours a day, one hour for the playground, days off for holidays, teacher's meetings, the teachers make $40,000 a year plus. They only work eight months out of the year. They have tenure so they can't be fired. After 10 years, they can retire. The parents should be responsible for their child's education, not the elderly or the single. What about these parents who live in apartments or small homes, who don't pay any real estate tax? It's very unfair.

Not a money tree

District 46 taxpayers, wake up. Once again our school board is talking about a space crunch and needing a new school in the next four years. Less than a year after the new school they wanted was opened. Someone needs to tell the school board that we taxpayers are not a never-ending money tree and they should have thought about running out of space when they were planning the new school.

Found your glasses

We found a pair of child's prescription glasses in the park in the Links of English Meadows. If your child lost his glasses, call the Grayslake Park District. They can give you the information needed, because I have the glasses.

Cubs ditty

Gee, but I'd give the world to see, those old Cubs of mine. I can't forget the way they played, they were tough all the time. Goodbye forever, guys like Stan Hack. Goodbye, forever, Tinkers, Evers, and Chance. God bless you. Gee, but I'd give the world to see, those old Cubs of mine.

Tuition's illegal

In response to the poor, misguided person that suggested that Fox Lake District 114 school board raise the tuition. Would someone please explain to this person that there is no tuition in public schools, and the only place they can get additional funds is from taxpayers. It is illegal to charge tuition in public schools. If this is what the school board is trying to put up with in getting a referendum passed, it's no wonder they have a hard time.

What's going on?

I keep reading about people crabbing about taxes for schools. They started a lottery for taxes. What happened to the lottery for schools? Now the governor wants to raise taxes all over Illinois. What's going on? Can't somebody do something about this?

Calm & cool

Hats off to Lindenhurst's McDonald's. When everyone was losing their heads and tempers, they kept theirs. They served their customers in a cool, calm way, being both fair and organized. Thank you. To all of you who took more Teenie Beanie Babies than you needed, shame on you. Some kids didn't get any. The next time you want to talk about rude kids, look at your own. The nut doesn't fall far from the tree.

Volleyball's here

I know there are many schools and many sports in the area to cover. However, I feel that a lot of your sports coverage has been spent on baseball, softball, and tennis. Perhaps you don't know that ACHS has entered into their first year of conference competition in boys volleyball. The boys are competing against schools with very developed programs, and could use the support of our community. We'd like to congratulate them on the strength and energy they've put forth so far, and hope their season continues in a prosperous manner.

Get rid of bumps

Seeing as though we can't slow the speeders down on Highland Road, how's the chance of having the village maintenance department move some of the bumps from streets such as Heather, Railroad Avenue, and School Street over to Highland Road?

Go out with Grace

I'm calling from Fox Lake. Since when have we become Mr. Hamsher's subjects? It's too bad he couldn't go out gracefully instead of causing all this controversy with our neighbors, Spring Grove. We can hardly afford any more annexations. Sewer and water keeps going up and up. I was under the impression the more users, the cheaper it got. Not so here.

Should've

I'm calling about McDonald's. They should have limited the amount of Happy Meals to be purchased by individuals or families.

Not ashamed

Davis voters accept your congratulations. Remember, we depend on voters to vote and make their own decisions. I'm not ashamed of my vote. Neither should you be. When did you not see prices and wages go up, values go down when improvements are not made. We bought here 30 years ago when Round Lake Beach was affordable and it still is. By the way, the mayor has invited all three parties to coffee on May 3, 9 a.m. to 11 p.m. to voice and discuss your opinions.

Fun gardening tips minus pesticides, insecticides

MARLENE BROWN

Correspondent

Whether you have a huge garden plot or one window box, these tips that date back to "grandma's time" are both useful and practical. The best way to enjoy gardening is to refrain from pesticides and insecticides.

Get ready to clip out the following and find a special place for these hints:

1. Give your used coffee grounds and loose tea to the soil. (you can open a tea bag, too).

2. Place banana skins just below the surface of the soil. They are especially good for roses, as they rot quickly and provide a considerable quantity of calcium magnesium, sulfur, phosphates, sodium and silica.

3. Garlic planted beside each rose is a guaranteed insecticide. It also repels green aphids.

4. A plant should be in the right place. For example, a lilac grown in the shade might force a bloom or two each spring, but by putting it in the sun, that lilac will burst into color and fragrance.

5. A beneficial plant for every garden is the common fox-glove. It keeps other plants healthier, stimulates growth, helps disease resistance, and improves storage qualities of such produce as potatoes, tomatoes and apples, when grown near them.

6. Never throw old boots and shoes in the garbage. Bury them! They will eventually rot, giving nutrients to the soil.

7. Getting rid of earwigs and other flower-eaters at ground level can be accomplished by taking lettuce leaves and melon rinds, and tucking them in the mulch around the flowers. So many bugs will come to eat them that within a week or so, everything will be turned into soil. The bugs get so satisfied with this food that they won't climb higher for a flower buffet!

8. Do you have excess milk to throw out? Pour it around the crown of cabbages the first two weeks after transplantation. Milk kills the root maggot. In addition, you can rinse milk bottles or cartons, shake well, and let it be a very mild liquid manure on houseplants and in the garden.

9. The keeper of a garden with 11,000 rose plants has this advice: water-fertilize, Water-spray, Water-cultivate, Water-mulch. Then, when you're all done-water again.

10. Rinse out beer bottles and glasses for the good of the garden. Plants love the yeast.

11. Put hair (from your hairbrushes, etc) in the bottom of a trench when planting vegetables (especially beans). It is full of valuable minerals.

12. Gladioli are extremely bad for peas, beans and strawberries. Plant them over 50 feet away.

13. Put old nylons around the head of each baby cauliflower and broccoli. This will guarantee that cabbage worms will never chew through. The nylons stretch as the plant grows.

14. Put a tablespoon of Epsom salts (magnesium) around your new tomato plants. The plants will grow more quickly, and will be stronger.

Inspect trees for structural hazards

Are your trees healthy? Nature let go its fury this winter, sending tons of snow, torrential rains and gusting winds. Trees can suffer extensive damage during such a season and can become hazardous. They also can become unhealthy due to severe weather conditions, especially prolonged freezing, flooding or drought. Storm damaged trees can be a threat to life, home, vehicles and other personal property. Property owners could be held responsible for any damage or personal injury caused by a tree on their property. Homeowners want to have beautiful healthy trees, because they are valuable and pleasant to look at. Right now is a good time to inspect trees for structural hazards, since the trees are bare and the whole structure can be viewed. Some of the warning signs to look for:

- Wire in contact with tree branches. Trees may become energized when they are contacted by electric wires, or telephone wires in contact with electric wires.
- Cracked stems and branch forks.
- Broken limbs and tree tops that may be hanging, or lodged in the tree.
- Hollow or decayed areas on the trunk or main limbs, or mushrooms growing from the bark.

- Peeling bark or gaping wounds in the trunk.

- Fallen or uprooted trees putting pressure on other trees beneath them.

Spring and summer give us the best opportunities to identify tree health problems, since a cursory inspection can tell whether the tree "looks" healthy compared to previous years or other nearby trees of the same species. Diagnosis of the actual cause of the tree malady is a tricky business best left to an expert. As with human illness, prompt detection and treatment can be critical.

If you are unsure whether your tree is healthy or can withstand the next storm, consult a professional arborist who will identify and remove hazards as well as treat the causes of tree health problems. A number of an NAA-member arborist can be found by calling the National Arborist Assn., 1(800)733-2622 or by a zip code on the NAA's Web Site: <http://newww.com/org/naa>

National Arbor Day is April 25. Plant or care for a tree and give the generations to come a better environment in which to live.

Arbor Day Foundation Sets Goal to Plant 10 Million Trees During 125th Anniversary

Ten free flowering trees will be given to each person who joins The National Arbor Day Foundation.

The ten trees are two White Flowering Dogwoods, two Flowering Crabapples, two Golden Raintrees, two Washington Hawthorns, and two American Redbuds.

"This year is the 125th Anniversary of Arbor Day, and the free flowering trees are part of The National Arbor Day Foundation's Trees for America campaign to plant 10 million trees in 1997," John Rosenow, the Foundation's president, said.

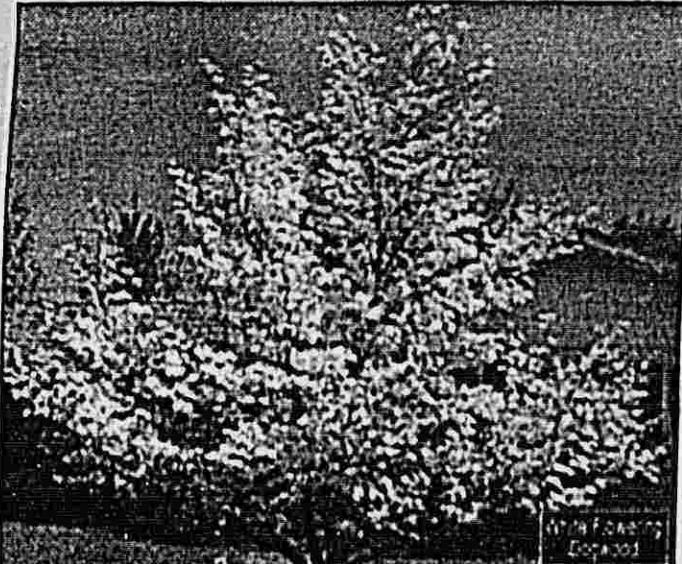

"These compact trees were selected for planting in large or small spaces," Rosenow said. "They will give your home the beauty of lovely pink, white, and yellow flowers—and also provide winter berries and nesting sites for songbirds."

The trees will be shipped postpaid at the right time for planting in your area, February through May in the spring, or October through mid-December in the fall, along with enclosed planting instructions. The six to twelve inch trees are guaranteed to grow or they will be replaced free of charge.

Members also receive a subscription to the Foundation's bimonthly publication, Arbor Day, and The Tree Book with information about tree planting and care.

"Planting trees is something that each of us can do to leave our mark on the earth," Rosenow said. "Tree planting is a positive act that will improve our neighborhoods and communities, and make life better for future generations."

You can help make the future better and more secure by planting trees. Join today, and plant your Trees for America!

Building self-confidence—A step toward success

Self-confidence—the belief that you can achieve and succeed—often spells the difference between success and failure. I've seen it in the classroom, watched it in the business arena and observed it in the corporate world. An individual's capacity to excel increases as his or her confidence grows.

Several years ago I played ping-pong with a friend whose skill level was much higher than mine. We would often play 10 to 15 games in an evening and for several weeks I never won a game.

However, my skills increased with each evening of practice. While it was frustrating to lose, I could see my improvement. Gradually the game got closer. I bought a better paddle and learned to put spin on every shot. I learned to drive the ball with both my forehand and backhand.

Finally, one night I won a close game, than another. If I concentrated and made every shot count, I could beat Tim. In just a few months, I became one of the top players in our church group. What a confidence booster that was.

Just as diligent practice contributes to skill building in ping-pong, there are factors that contribute to the generation of self-confidence in every aspect of our lives. As you build skills, gain knowledge and increase your abilities, your self-assurance will grow.

Seven keys for gaining confidence

- Self-confidence begins with a desire to succeed. I've never seen a person become successful or grow in skills and abilities who had no desire to improve. You got to have the "wanna" if you're "gonna."

- Become an expert. It is only when you backup the desire to succeed with knowl-

- edge, training and experience that you achieve a position where nothing can stop you. Self-confidence, based on ability and knowledge, is convincing. It will cause others to believe in you.

- Don't worry about what others think, just do it. The fear of what someone will say or think about us, often keeps us from reaching out to embrace new challenges. Stay focused on doing rather than worrying. Your fears will decrease as you achieve results.

- Make a long journey by taking short steps. We often face big challenges. The task may seem overwhelming. We must learn that when we do a small think well, our confidence will increase so we can take on more demanding tasks.

- Aim high and believe you can. It is unlikely that anyone will have more confidence in you than you have in yourself. Set high standards and lofty goals for your performance. Believe you can. Henry Ford said, "Whether you think you can or think you cannot, you're right."

Edward Jones to host National Career Day

Bob Wickenkamp, a local investment representative for Edward Jones, will be participating in Jones' National Career Day, Tuesday, May 6.

The event will feature a program to be broadcast live over the firm's satellite network. This program, which will air twice, will examine opportunities and challenges offered by a career with Edward Jones.

"Edward Jones is truly different from other Wall Street firms; we offer our investment representatives unique opportunities," Wickenkamp said. "We're looking for entrepreneurial people who have a desire to run their own business with the support of a much larger organization. Our investment representatives live in the communities where they work, serving individual investors exclusively."

Jones offers an extensive training program for new brokers. As part of that training, Jones representatives build their businesses by calling on people face to face in the communities where they have chosen to put down roots.

"We want our new brokers out where people can take their measure and decide if they are the kind of people they want to do business with," Wickenkamp said.

For further information, on National Career Day, call 356-6272.

Sterling leaves behind dusty, dingy body shop image

An auto body repair business started in a Mundelein garage in 1984 is embarking on a multiple site expansion program that could result in a Midwest presence by 1998.

Gordon Bockwinkel, founder and owner of Sterling Finish, Rte. 45, Lake Villa/Grayslake, announced expansion plans to a group of insurance company representatives, vendors and friends at a buffet dinner following an open house attended by more than 300 persons.

Employing computerization, state-of-the-art equipment and modern management techniques, Bockwinkel has attained a nationwide reputation in the auto body repair industry.

Sterling was named the Collision Shop of 1996 by an industry group.

"We've left behind the old dusty, dingy body shop image in the collision repair field," Bockwinkel exclaimed to visitors in the second floor classroom of Sterling headquarters where a 36,000 square foot gleaming white addition is the centerpiece of the company.

"Now we're going to expand our concepts of customer service, trust and cost control," explained Bockwinkel who started his own business after graduation from Carmel High School.

"The Sterling Way," a combination of business plans, computer software and know how now is available to collision repair specialists all over the nation. Many body shop owners come to the Rte. 45 facility for training.

With a winning smile, the affable entrepreneur talks about "proactive communication," "baton management," benefits of third party monitoring and building a winning team like a college professor.

One of the characteristics of Bockwinkel, 34, is his stress on education and commitment to training. Sterling sponsors apprenticeship training with programs at College of Lake County and Lake County's vocational center. He recently had 60 parents attend an open house to see what opportunities exist for their sons.

Sterling's new logo exemplifies the company's vision of the future. A new mission statement summarizes Bockwinkel's intent to "Provide invisible repair with legendary service."

The company has the capability of turning total wrecks into like-new condition. "Our goal is to turn out work where repairs can't be detected," Bockwinkel remarked. Sterling Finish's normal completion quota is 80 vehicles per week. Sterling went to an around-the-clock schedule to provide factory-like auto painting where color matching is computer generated.

After Sterling clones pop up elsewhere, Bockwinkel hinted he has other plans to set new standards in the collision repair business.

CLC to host symposium

"How to Talk to a Banker," a symposium providing information on planning and preparation strategies for entrepreneurs seeking financing, will be offered by the College of Lake County's Small Business Development Center (SBDC) on May 13. The program will be held from 6:30 to 9:30 p.m. in Room C003 at the Grayslake Campus, 19351 W. Washington St.

Slated speakers are Len Weitz, CPA, managing partner of Mann, Cohn, Weitz, a financial consulting company in Deerfield; Patricia DeMasi, assistant vice president of First Midwest Bank, Buffalo Grove; and Linda Jorn, director of the CLC SBDC.

Cost is $35 per person. To register, call 223-3633 or fax to 223-9371.

Coldwell Banker has agreed to sponsor a home for Habitat for Humanity, a national organization dedicated to providing affordable housing to qualifying families. Coldwell Banker sales associates, managers and corporate personnel have joined together to raise the necessary $50,000 in sponsorship funds as well as contribute more than 2,600 man-hours for the construction of the home located in Glendale Heights.

The April 12 groundbreaking ceremony was well attended and extremely successful.

"We're honored to once again have the opportunity to be a part of this worthwhile and important project.

As members of the Coldwell

Bank real estate team, we are in the unique position to see hundreds of families each day realize the dream of owning their own home. Habitat for Humanity has provided us with the chance to participate hands-on in "Building the Dream" for another very special family," says Joyce M. Burke, president of Coldwell Banker Chicago Suburban.

Nancy Taylor, Coldwell Banker Habitat for Humanity Chairman and branch manager of Coldwell Banker Carol Stream adds, "Our sales associates have done a tremendous job raising funds for this project in a very short period of time. They have unparalleled enthusiasm and dedication. I am extremely proud of their contribution, participation, energy and commitment."

The first of two fund-raising raffles secured nearly $5,000 toward the project and an ice cream social garnered another $1,100.

The second raffle, for which tickets will be sold at $5 each or 6 for $25 is already underway and offers the chance to win various prizes including: two main floor Bulls Playoff tickets, $1,000 in cash, two round-trip tickets on SouthWestern Airlines, an autographed Michael Jordan signed baseball, an André Dawson signed Cubs Bag, a Wolverine signed hockey stick and $100 American Express gift certificate.

Turn of the century manor to be 1997 Infant Welfare Showcase house Distinguished 'Frogner' manor in Lake Forest to draw more than 10,000 visitors during tour to benefit Infant Welfare.

"Frogner" is a distinguished red brick manor house set on five acres of magnificent lawn and woods in the heart of Lake Forest. It was designed by Chicago architect Arthur Heun and built for Frederik Herman Gade, an early mayor of Lake Forest.

"Frogner" has been meticulously restored in recent years and expanded to include a stunning new east wing, featuring a gourmet kitchen, family room and spa. The house features 28 of Chicago's best interior and landscape designers and is frequently cited as the best showcase house in the Chicago area, drawing well over 10,000 ticketholders.

The house is on the National Register of Historic Places as a notable example of arts and crafts design.

The house will be open to the public Saturday, April 26 through Sunday, May 18. Admission is $18 at the door or $15 per person if tickets are purchased in advance.

The hours will be: Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Friday, from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m.; Thursday from 10 a.m. to 7:30 p.m.; and weekends from 11 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Shuttle bus service will be available to the house. For information or advance tickets call 295-7060.

This is the seventh bi-annual Lake Forest Infant Welfare Showcase house. This event has been ranked among the best by the national press and attracts the finest designers in the Midwest.

Proceeds benefit the Infant Welfare Society, a not-for-profit organization which has provided medical, dental, educational and psychological services for children; gynecological, social work and child care education for women since 1911. Health care services are operated out of the Philip D. Armour Child and Family Center on Halsted Street in Chicago which opened in 1970.

Co-chairmen of the showcase house are Mrs. Mark A. Nagle and Mrs. John E. Preschlack.

Dance Pounds Away expands program to Antioch

Ask any doctor and he'll tell you that an effective weight loss program must include regular exercise.

He won't tell you, however, that you can't have fun doing it. That's where Gurnee's Dance Pounds Away comes in. In the five years since they've opened the business, owners Deb Lopez and Lory Charney have revolutionized the weight loss world.

Dance Pounds Away offers programs that stress aerobic exercise and group motivation to affect not only weight loss, but a change in lifestyle that keeps the weight off. It does this by offering many different programs geared toward an individual's needs. What it doesn't do is offer the same old step-toning aerobics.

"If people don't have fun, they're not going to continue; if they don't have variety, they get frustrated; and if they don't get results quick enough, they fall off," said Lopez. "We corner the market by psychologically getting them out of the gym, and we do that by offering a music program that is awesome."

The music includes all types of popular music, from Top 40 to R&B to Motown. The music is combined with heavily researched regimen of the best fat and calorie burning aerobic techniques, including cardiovascular and toning steps. You don't have to wait for exercise equipment in this club, and you're in and out in one hour.

But it doesn't stop there; the fitness pros at Dance Pounds Away help you change your lifestyle as well as your physique.

"It's our job to monitor them every 30 days to make sure they're losing at least six to 12.5 total body inches and/or pounds," said Lopez. "As professionals we know that in order for someone to change their lifestyle they have to make a lifelong commitment. Most people don't want to work that hard. They want to see (the weight) come off. It takes 60 to 90 days to form a habit, and we get them there."

Patrons are requested to attend at least three classes per week, but once they get going they get hooked, and many want to dance five to seven times per week, burning as much fat and calories in a week as they normally would in 30 days.

The classes are geared for all types of people, with the average patron being anywhere from 28 to 60 years old. According to Lopez, "If you're an 18 year old Olympian or a 60 year old who has never exercised, we have classes for you."

Dance Pounds Away is currently seeking to expand its services, working with park districts, hospitals, and the private sector. In addition to its already successful programs, it is developing a program to help the busy executive woman who doesn't have time to get to the gym. It has a nursery to keep the kids entertained while mom gets fit.

Dance Pounds Away is located at 401 N. Riverside Dr. in Gurnee. For more information on classes held in Antioch, call 662-2772.

Job fair

The Lake County Center for Independent Living is hosting a Personal Assistant Job Fair, Monday, April 28 from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. at the College of Lake County, room C003, 19351 W. Washington St., Grayslake. This job fair is for individuals who are reliable and dependable and enjoy working with people. Able to work closely with others, have some knowledge about different disabilities and some educational courses or experiences in providing personal care and/or light housekeeping to persons with a disability. Contact Yolanda Whitehead at 949-4440 V/TTY for further information.

Internet seminar

"Understanding and Applying Internet Concepts," a hands-on seminar covering business applications for the Internet, will be offered by the College of Lake County's Dept. of Community Education and Economic Development. Two sessions of the class will be offered from 8 a.m. to noon and 1 to 5 p.m. on April 29 in room L111 at the Grayslake campus, 19351 W. Washington St.

Topics covered will include use of the Internet, understanding the World Wide Web, doing business on the Web and selecting an Internet service. Basic Windows experience is recommended.

The seminar is offered in cooperation with the United States

Small Business Administration and the Illinois Dept. of Commerce and Community Affairs. Cost is $60 per person. To register, call 223-3633.

Legislative breakfast

The Lake County Health Dept. and United Way of Lake County invite the public to attend the 1997 Health and Human Services Legislative Breakfast on Monday, April 28 from 8 to 11 a.m. at Country Squire Restaurant, Rtes. 120 and 45 in Grayslake.

The legislative breakfast provides an opportunity for Lake County health and human service agencies to obtain updated information about policy issues, to discuss current proposed legislation and to network with peers and legislators or their aides.

The cost is $15 per person. For more information call, Sally Foster, United Way of Lake County at 816-0063.

Technology fair

Inacomp Computer Systems' second annual Technology Fair is scheduled for Thursday, May 1 from 1:30 to 5:30 p.m. at the Holiday Inn of Gurnee. This unique business-to-business expo is renowned as Lake County's premier technology event, bringing the latest business applications and solutions in the computer industry right to the doorstep of area companies. For more information or to receive an invitation to the Technology Fair, contact Gordon Sobe, operations manager at Inacomp 662-2100.

Self-Confidence

- Act confident and you will be confident. Nearly 30 years ago I attended W. Clement Stone's Combined Insurance training school. One of the lessons I learned was that I could become what I was willing to act out. If I wanted to become more enthusiastic, I had to act enthusiastically. If I wanted to become confident, I had to act with confidence. Today, as I walk out on stage in an auditorium filled with thousands of people, I still have to act. The audience will never know of my shaking knees and sweaty palms if I appear confident.

Surround yourself with confident friends. I believe confidence is catching. Those who achieve inspire me. Those who fight back from adversity help me win my battles. From time to time we all need a cheerleader to encourage us. Friends with positive attitudes will bolster our self-confidence and help us become successful.

Age 65, passed away at his home on Monday, April 21, 1997 after a long bout with cancer. He was born, July 10, 1931 in Waukegan to Margaret (Lane) and Charles Arthur Stanton. Mr. Stanton was proud of the fact that his family members were pioneers in the area and could be traced back to the early 1800s as residents of the Ingleside community. Ralph Stanton graduated from Gavin Grade School and Grant Community High School. He received his advanced degrees from Northern Illinois University in DeKalb. After serving with the U.S. Army, he began his career in education with the Fox Lake School District 114. During his 35 years of service to this school district, he served in many capacities but finalized his career as Superintendent of Schools. Mr. Stanton retired in 1990 at which time the middle school building was renamed "Stanton School" in his honor. This was among his proudest moments. Mr. Stanton was a member of several educational organizations including, American Assn. of School Administrators, Illinois Assn. of School Administrators, Illinois Elementary School Assn., Lake County Curriculum Council, National and Illinois Education Associations, Illinois and Lake County Retired Teachers Assn. He was a 40 year member of American Legion Post 703 in Fox Lake. Mr. Stanton remained somewhat active and very supportive of parent and teacher organizations and functions of the

Peter Bouzanis,

Unknown owners, Tenants in Possession and Non-Record

Claimants,

m. Name or names of person claimed to be personally liable for any deficiency; P.G.B., Inc., Papa George's, Inc. and Peter G. Bouzanis.

n. Capacity in which Plaintiff brings this suit: Plaintiff owns and holds the note secured by the mortgage recorded as Document

No. 3816956, together with all the indebtedness secured thereby.

o. Facts in support of shortened redemption period, if sought: property is non-residential.

p. Facts in support of request for attorney's fees and of costs and expenses:

That pursuant to the terms of the Note and Mortgage, the mortgagors have obligated themselves to pay for the attorney's fees, court costs, title costs, and other expenses which plaintiff has been and will be required to expend in the prosecution of this foreclosure.

q. Facts in support of a request for appointment of mortgagee in possession or for appointment of receiver, and identity of such receiver, if sought:

Property is non-residential and pursuant to Paragraph 2 of its

Mortgage and applicable law, Plaintiff is entitled to enter the premises and collect rents.

There is a reasonable likelihood that Plaintiff will prevail on the merits at final hearing.

WHEREFORE, Plaintiff requests:

1. A judgment of foreclosure and sale.

2. An order granting shortened redemption, if sought.

3. A personal judgment for deficiency.

4. An order granting possession.

5. An order placing the mortgage in possession or appointing a receiver.

6. For a finding that the interests of all named defendants are junior and subservient to the mortgage lien being foreclosed herein and the termination of leaseholder, if any.

7. A judgment for attorneys' fees, costs and expenses.

8. Such other and further relief as the Court deems proper.

BOARD OF TRUSTEES OF THE VILLAGE OF ANTIOTH, LAKE COUNTY, ILLINOIS,

THIS 18TH DAY OF MARCH, 1997.

ORDINANCE NO. 97-3-3

ORDINANCE ALLOWING THE SALE OF THE BRANS NUTS BUILDING LOCATED AT 935 MAIN STREET, ANTIOTH, ILLINOIS WITH APPROXIMATE DIMENSIONS OF 27 FEET BY 192 FEET: P.I.N. 02-08-306-037.

WHEREAS, the following described parcel of property, presently owned by the Village of Antioch, is considered surplus property pursuant to Chapter 65 ILCS 5/11-76-1 and Chapter 65 ILCS 5/11-76-2. A copy of said Statute is attached to this Ordinance as "Exhibit 1". The property is currently used for private use and not public use. The purpose of the sale of the property at 935 Main Street is to provide additional consideration for the Village's purchase of the property located at the intersection of Main Street (Route 83) and Orchard Street, so as to provide additional municipal parking and municipal ownership and in order to prevent the construction of a commercial building on said Orchard Street and Main Street lot.

The legal description of said parcel located at 935 Main Street is as follows: THAT PART OF LOTS 43 AND 17 OF COUNTY CLERK'S SUBDIVISION OF UNSUBDIVIDED LANDS OF THE VILLAGE OF ANTIOTH, IN SECTION 7, 8, 17 AND 18, TOWNSHIP 46 NORTH, RANGE 10, EAST OF THE THIRD P.M., ACCORDING TO THE PLAT THEREOF, RECORDED JUNE 20, 1907 AS DOCUMENT 112577, IN BOOK "G" OF PLATS ON PAGES 76 TO 81, INCLUSIVE, DESCRIBED AS FOLLOWS, TO-WIT: BEGINNING AT THE SOUTHWEST CORNER OF SAID LOT 43; THENCE NORTHERLY ALONG THE WEST LINE OF SAID LOT 43, 26.89 FEET; THENCE EASTERNLY 332.82 FEET PARALLEL WITH THE SOUTH LINE OF SAID LOT 43 AND THE NORTH LINE OF LOT 44 IN SAID SUBDIVISION TO THE EAST-EASTERLY LINE OF SAID LOT 44 EXTENDED NORTH; THENCE SOUTH ALONG THE EASTERLY LINE OF LOT 44; AS EXTENDED 26.79 FEET TO THE NORTH EAST CORNER OF SAID LOT 44; THENCE WESTERLY 325.38 FEET ALONG THE NORTHERLY LINE OF LOT 44 AND THE SOUTHERLY LINE OF LOT 43 TO THE PLACE OF BEGINNING IN LAKE COUNTY, ILLINOIS (EXCEPT ALL THAT PART THEREOF FALLING IN SAID LOT 17).

WHEREAS, pursuant to Chapter 65 ILCS 5/11-76-1 and Chapter 65 ILCS 5/11-76-2 (1994), said parcel shall be sold by the Village pursuant to the terms and conditions set forth in said Statutes.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT ORDAINED BY THE PRESIDENT AND BOARD OF TRUSTEES OF THE VILLAGE OF ANTIOTH, LAKE COUNTY, ILLINOIS, as follows:

Section 1: The President and Board of Trustees of the Village of Antioch hereby find the facts as stated in the preamble hereof are true and correct and said findings are hereby made a part of this Ordinance.

Section 2: That in the opinion of the corporate authorities, the aforesaid legally described real estate is no longer necessary, appropriate or required for use and it would be in the best interests of the Village to sell said parcel as "surplus property".

Section 3: That attached as "Exhibit 2" is the appraisal of said property by Perry Appraisal Service.

Section 4: That said parcel of property is to be sold pursuant to Statute as follows:

A notice of the proposed sale shall be published once each week for three (3) consecutive weeks in a newspaper published in Lake County or published in Antioch. The first publication shall not be less than thirty (30) days before the day provided in the notice for the opening of bids for the real estate.

The public notice shall contain an accurate description of the property, state the purpose for which the property is presently used and at what meeting place and date bids will be considered and opened.

All bids on the property shall be opened at a regular meeting of the corporate authorities.

The corporate authorities may accept the high bid or any other bid determined to be in the best interests of the city or Village by a vote of three-fourths (3/4) of the corporate authority.

PASSED AND APPROVED by the President and Board of Trustees of the Village of Antioch, Lake County, Illinois on this 17th day of March, 1997.

AYES: 6; Weber, Foresta, Oldenburger, Cunningham, Larson & Maravelas.

NAYS: 0.

PUBLIC NOTICE
NOTICE OF DEFAULT AND FORECLOSURE SALE
Sale #1033

WHEREAS, on December 8, 1980, a certain Mortgage was executed by John R. Needham and Robbie R. Needham as mortgagor in favor of Percy Wilson Mortgage and Finance Corp. as mortgagee and was recorded on December 11, 1980, as Instrument No. 2092793 in the Office of the Recorder of Deeds of Lake County, Illinois; and

WHEREAS, the Mortgage was insured by the United States Secretary of Housing and Urban Development (the Secretary) pursuant to Section 312 of the National Housing Act, 12 U.S.C. 3751, for the purpose of providing single family housing; and

WHEREAS, the Mortgage is now owned by the Secretary, pursuant to an assignment recorded as Instrument Number 2288862, in the Office of the Recorder of Deeds, of Lake County, Illinois; and

WHEREAS, a default has been made in the covenants and conditions of the Mortgage in that the payment due on March 1, 1986, was not made and remains wholly unpaid as of the date of this notice, and no payment has been made sufficient to restore the loan to currency; and

WHEREAS, by virtue of this default, the Secretary has declared the entire amount of the indebtedness secured by the Mortgage to be immediately due and payable;

NOW THEREFORE, pursuant to powers vested in me by the Single Family Mortgage Foreclosure Act of 1994, 12 U.S.C. 3751 et seq., by 24 CFR Part 29, and by the Secretary's designation of me as Foreclosure Commissioner, recorded on July 17, 1996 as Instrument No. 96545574, with the Recorder of Deeds of Cook County, Illinois, notice is hereby given that on May 2, 1997 at 1 p.m. local time, all real and personal property at or used in connection with the following described premises located at 1232 Park Avenue, Winthrop Harbor, IL 60096 legally described as:

THE SOUTH HALF OF BLOCK 20 (EXCEPT THE NORTH 50 FEET AND EXCEPT THE WEST 177 FEET, AND EXCEPT THE SOUTH 147 FEET OF THE EAST 60 FEET OF THE WEST 237 FEET, AND EXCEPT THE SOUTH 147 FEET OF THE EAST 139 FEET) IN KELLOGG'S SUBDIVISION OF SECTIONS 10 AND 15, TOWNSHIP 46 NORTH, RANGE 12, EAST OF THE THIRD PRINCIPAL MERIDIAN, ACCORDING TO THE PLAT OF SAID SUBDIVISION RECORDED OCTOBER 1, 1914, AS DOCUMENT 155423, IN BOOK "J" OF PLATS, PAGE 16, IN LAKE COUNTY, ILLINOIS.

will be sold at public auction to the highest bidder.

The sale will be held at Suite 2720, 30 North LaSalle St., Chicago, Illinois. The Secretary of Housing and Urban Development will bid $122,566.01.

There will be no proration of taxes, rents or other income or liabilities, except that the purchaser will pay, at or before closing, his prorata share of any real estate taxes that have been paid on the project by the Secretary to the date of the foreclosure sale.

When making their bid, all bidders except the Secretary must submit a deposit totaling $12,256.50 (10% of the Secretary's bid) in the form of a certified check or cashier's check made out to the Secretary of HUD. Each oral bid need not be accompanied by a deposit. If the successful bid is oral, a deposit of $12,256.50 must be represented before the bidding is closed. The deposit is non-refundable. The remainder of the purchase price must be delivered within 30 days of the sale or at such other time as the Secretary may determine for good cause shown, time being of the essence. This amount, like the bid deposits, must be delivered in the form of a certified or cashier's check. If the Secretary is the high bidder, he need not pay the bid amount in cash. The successful bidder will pay all the conveyancing fees, all real estate and other taxes that are due on or after the date of closing and all other costs associated with the transfer of title. At the conclusion of the sale, the deposits of the unsuccessful bidders will be returned to them.

The Secretary may grant an extension of time within which to close. All extensions will be for 30 days, and a fee will be charged in the amount of 1.5% of the unpaid balance of the purchase price or HUD's holding costs, whichever is greater.

The extension fee shall be paid in the form of a certified or cashier's check made payable to the Secretary of Housing and Urban Development. If the high bidder closes the sale prior to the expiration of any extension period, the unused portion of the extension fee shall be applied toward the amount due at closing.

If the high bidder is unable to close the sale within the required period, or within any extensions of time granted by the Secretary, the high bidder's deposit will be forfeited, and the Commissioner may, at the direction of the HUD Field Office Representative, offer the Project to the second highest bidder for an amount equal to the highest price offered by that bidder. All other terms of the sale would remain the same. If the second highest bidder rejects the Commissioner's offer, the Field Office Representative will provide instructions to the Commissioner about cancellation of the sale or other action to be taken.

How To Survive The Job Search

By Nancy Sakol

Dear Search,

What is the rule on companies and severance pay? I left a company after 3 1/2 years due to a lay off, and I was not offered any severance pay. I was told by a friend that I had it coming to me and that I should contact the company to find out why I have not received it yet. Please give me your ideas on how I should approach the situation.

T.S.-Lakemoor

Your friend is feeding you improper information. Be advised that severance pay is not a "given." Companies are not required to give an employee severance pay upon departure from a company. In fact, companies are not required to give out severance pay for any reason whatsoever. Severance pay is a gift of sorts that often means "hope this softens the blow." Your friend may be confusing severance pay with unemployment compensation which you may be eligible for. Contact your nearest Illinois Department of Employment Security Office, which for you would probably be the Waukegan office (although you may contact any Illinois facility), and they will have you fill out the forms necessary for which you may apply for the compensation while you are actively seeking future employment. You should have no trouble collecting as long as the reason for your termination is uncontested. The Illinois Department of Employment Security has launched a staunch effort to crack down on unemployment fraud. Therefore, be sure that you are actively seeking employment with an emphasis on actively. Be prepared when you go to apply at your nearest office to supply the representative with your employer's name, address, dates of employment, paycheck stubs if you have them, and a good attitude. You will then be required to meet with a job service counselor who will monitor your activity and offer recommendations as to possible job listings that may be available. You will be required to check in periodically.

Dear Search,

I recently spent a fortune to have a resume typed by a service that omitted my year that I graduated college. They told me the reason that they did it, but could you please tell me what you believe would be a reason for not including that on a resume? I am proud of my accomplishment and feel it should be included.

R.H.I.

It doesn't sound as though anyone is trying to shirk your accomplishment. As I understand it, your degree is included in your resume, however, just the date of graduation was left out. The reason I can guess would be that a potential employer could possibly calculate your age, which could help or hurt depending on the position. If you feel more comfortable having it in...ask the service to do so, but it is not necessarily needed.

Note: Nancy Sakol is a licensed personnel professional and President of Superior Personnel in Gurnee. Letters can be sent to Nancy Sakol c/o Lakeland Newspapers, P.O. Box 268, Grayslake, IL 60030

"YOU DON'T HAVE TO GO DOWNTOWN TO SEE GOOD BLUES!"

Chicago has long been known as the home of blues, but now Lake County can lay claim to the area's hottest blues band, "3 R Degree."

Made up of all Lake County residents, 3 R Degree is a "down to earth" group of musicians whose passion for the blues is quickly detected on stage.

Last weekend at Toppers in Antioch, 3 R Degree treated a packed house with a blues show that was second to none. The band's popularity in the area continues to grow.

"We started the band for fun a couple of years ago and it has really started to take off," said bass player Dennis Lambert.

Rooted in the far north suburbs, 3 R Degree is highly regarded in the northern Illinois and southern Wisconsin area. In addition to playing local clubs, the band was recently flown to the Orlando Convention Center, before returning for a show in Chicago at Dick's Last Resort.

"It's fun playing on the road, but what we really enjoy is playing Lake County," said Lambert. "Lake County loves the blues and they are definitely the best crowd!"

The band consists of John Walsh of Gurnee; Debbie and Dennis Lambert of Ingleside; Donna Huber, Ed Rowe and Guy Stage of Round Lake and Ken Johnson of Naperville.

Upcoming dates for 3 R Degree are Marriott Lincolnshire on May 2 and 3, The Brat Stop in Kenosha on May 9 and 11 and July 11 and 12, The Greenleaf in Gurnee on June 21 and Taste of Antioch on July 18.
